This is the book of Kelly Lawrence,

Well so much for suffering through a semester of Econ with thorn. Hmm... I suppose your blood pressure has increased in the past 4 months from panicking. Kelly, don't forget, you're great looking, a great athlete and a great student. Just stop thinking that you're not. Lack of conceit is a virtue. You got it. Good luck in whatever this summer. Have fun.
Love, Jori Franklin Gray

Kelly-
How's the little dancer. Are you going to dance your way to the top. Keep up the sorglessing.
See ya crowns
'86" Love ya
Leonard Bridges "86"

Kelly,
I've known you since the 7th grade, but this year I found out what you are really like, you little #@!! Just kidding. You're really, really one of the most understanding and sweetest girls I know. You're really different and special. I know this to be true. Stacy's got something special. My classes w/ you have been cool and Spanish camp was fun, too. Have a rad summer and call me #972-0587 + we'll talk, party, whatever. Luv from yer buddy,
HOW CAN YOU FORGET A WIERD NAME LIKE THAT?
— Monte Grist

Kelly,
It's been great having you in consumer and English. You're always there with a smiling face and an encouraging word. I hope we have some classes together next year.
Have a terrific summer and if you want to give me a call sometime. 481-2794
love,
Kelly Silvers

Kelly,
You and Stacy are rad but I'm outta here. Just kidding I have a rad summer party & much love
Brad Mikeska

Kelly,

I can't even begin to tell you what an awesome friend you have been to me this year (2nd semester anyway). I met so many new people when I came back from D.C. and I'm happy I got to know you. Kelly, you've got to be one of greatest persons I'll ever know and I ful totally great knowing that I'll have student government with you el año próximo! This may sound stupid, but sometimes I just like to come to school to see your smile, and it always cheers me up. Your personality is definitely one of the best. That is an understatement. Kelly, I just wish that sometimes you would have a lot more confidence in yourself. You've got everything it takes to do whatever the hell you want — brains, beauty, morals, integrity, loyalty, and on and on.... I know that you're going to have to buy me lunch this summer because I know you passed the AP History eXam! Remember.....? I hope you get your license back soon. Please don't forget me this summer. I'll write you muchas cartas from Boston this summer. Your respect and friendship mean more to me than you'll ever know. Keep in touch this summer and don't change! You're perfect the way you are. Stacy is a lucky guy.

Love,
Goodwin

Hey pal,
You are my best girl friend, not literally, like how Stacy considers you but you know how
I had a lot of fun with you this year, but we didn't
do enough Stuff together, we'll have to fix that this summer.
Love
Mike (Essian: if you look at it to years from now)

Dear Kelly,
Would you ever be free Friday afternoon after school or great friends. It's been a really great year
Just me pretend like hell. Oh
Mmm well anytime to be good friends (I hope!). This summer it would really like to go out + Party with you. I really mean that too!
you and I almost never partied together. This summer we should definitely do something o.k.?
Until I see you during the summer have a great one!
Love,
Joann

P.S. Your brother call me-

Kelly — I'll sign here w/ Erik a fellow senior! I am so glad I met you this year! Even though all of our times on squad were not perfect (seniors/junior, song vs cheer how stupid!) I will always remember Chinese food, pizza, away games and "Baby I'm A Star"! You are always smiling and it never fails to cheer me up! Don't stress about the college game you are honestly one of the most qualified people I know for any school. Good luck w/ applications and have a blast (no, Mrs. Martin I don't mean that kind) in your senior year! If you are down by UCLA come see me!

726-8953 just in case!

Love always,
Channing

Hello Kelly,
Have a nice summer. I've enjoyed being in the same English class; you're very nice. Best wishes,
Douglas Le

Kelly,
Believe it or not I still owe you and all the lunch. Because my mails were to short. I at least from my last year, knowing you in math I brought back old times. Now I'm being a Senior.

Kelly,
Do you believe it's been nine months since we met. Even though we've quickly grown, freshmen to seniors. I have been year after year extremely blessed to have a friend like you. Thank you for being a friend to me. Always remember that I'll still be there for you. Take care and be happy. And I'll see you again in the summer.

Kelly-

Hola. You are a really Great person. You are never trying to impress anyone and you're honest about things. I'm glad we've become better friends this year. Think we will graduate 1 year from now. That is awesome. School has gone by so fast. I hope you and Stacy will be together for a long time because you make a good couple. We should do something this summer, I mean it. Call me #489-0378

Perspectives

"High school," in general, is a phrase which connotes pleasant or unusual memories, depending greatly upon the person who is offering the definition. The years spent at Rio Americano can be considered both an important growth experience and necessary preparation for future learning. From a greatly different angle they can be labeled a waste of time or a prison to which modern kids, because of the complexity of society, are sentanced for four years. The majority of Rio's students have opinions which fall somewhere in the middle of these two extremes, but it is the diversity of perception and the complete openess of expression which makes Rio a special place to make the transition to young adulthood.

With this in mind, the 1985-86 Tesoro salutes the concept of individuality . . . all the striking and idiosyncratic character . . . all the contrasting and novel viewpoints . . .

AN ANGLE ON SPIRIT

1. Homecoming Princess, Madeline Rubenstein, enjoys her ride around the field during half-time festivities. 2. Holly Streeter displays that old Raider spirit of which our school is especially proud. 3. Kathy Williams knows that happiness lies in friendship. 4. Jim Kirkley and Diann Wilson design posters advertising the upcoming yearbook sale. 5. Cruisin' to L.A. in their Rabbit are members of the senior class. 6. Garrett Peck and his Cabbage Patch doll awaken only to find that it is already 4th period. 7. "Wonder Twin powers ACTIVATE," say Matt Perrine and David Wheeler.

3

Its presence was felt from that very first week of school. A new atmosphere was apparent among the students, faculty, and administration. With the arrival of a new principal, Dr. Uzelac, new vice-principal, Ms. Martin, and numerous other changes in the administration and faculty came a fresh enthusiasm. Other differences, such as the rejuvenation of such organizations as the Madrigals and the Mountaineering Club, have worked to generate a strong sense of spirit and pride in Rio and its people.

Event-wise, the year began with an early Homecoming with the theme "You Look Mahvelous." It was preceded by a fun-filled spirit week which included such attractions as Pee Wee Herman Day and Pajama Day. T.W.I.R.P. and the Key Club Dance were among other major events held prior to Christmas vacation.

The Three Stooges strolling across campus? A monk exiting an English class? A walking, talking waxbean? This was certainly not just another day at R.A.High School. No, it was Halloween! During lunch a costume contest was held on the quad. Members of the administration and faculty close the best costumes in a wide array of categories.

Halloween Fun

1. The Three Stooges (Mitch Varshawsky, Jim Mikacich, and Brian Kelley) fool around between classes. 2. Dean Hancock, Anthony DiGiorno, and Chris Dunbar await the arrival of the first flake of snow. 3. Jerry Marshall during the Raider cheerleader tryouts. 4. Sean Hobday and Erik Aalgaard attempt to take over the quad by force with toy guns. 5. Eric Sweet roams the campus disguised as a monk. 6.Hugh Hefner (Todd Sperber) and his bunnies make a special appearance at Rio.

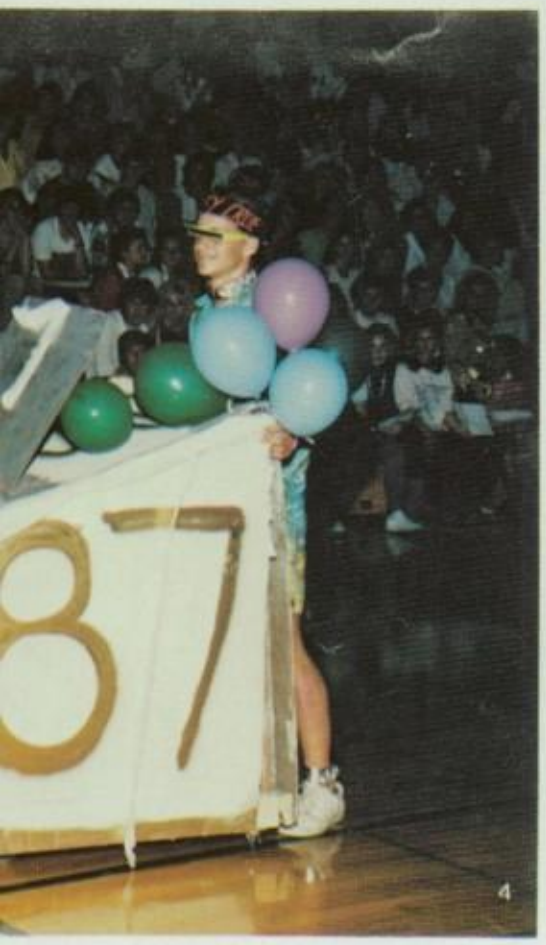
Homecoming Rally

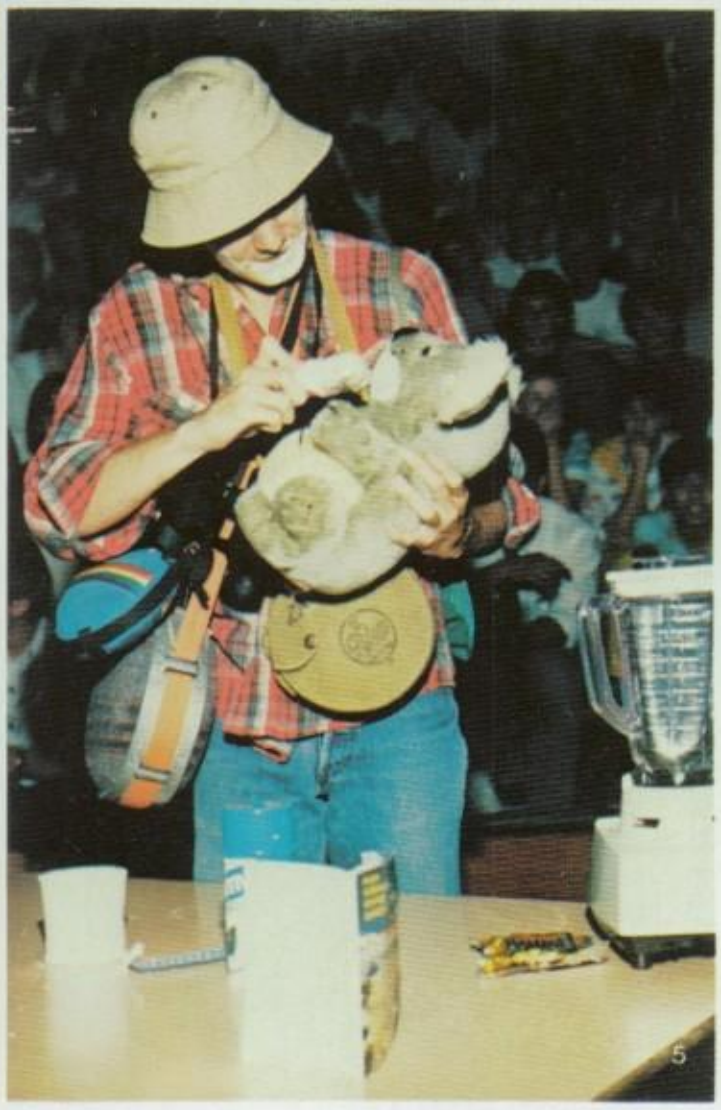
Skits Raise Raider Spirit

The Homecoming Rally did an excellent job of stirring up that old Raider spirit. The last day of Spirit Week was different for each class. The freshmen dressed in camping attire, the sophomores in sixties fashions, the juniors in space clothes, and the seniors went "beach." Each of the four classes performed a skit relating to their theme before the entire school. The freshman skit took place in a camping scene. It involved campers sharing a toothbrush, razor, and deodorant, and drinking leftover toothpaste water. The sophomores, traveling back to the sixties, appeared as flower children and hippies. Their skit was filled with dancing and protesting. Dressed in trash bags and tin foil, the juniors drove their space buggy around the "universe" looking for friends. After meeting campers, hippies, and L.A. beach people, they finally decided on their own kind back at the junior section. The Class of 1986 went "Walking in L.A." and came to the rally in the latest beach attire from Hawaiian print shirts to sunglasses and surfboards. During their skit, they showed the rest of the school the different types of people who live and travel in L.A.

After the skits several sports teams were introduced including Varsity Football, Waterpolo, and Varsity Volleyball. To wrap up the event the undergrad and senior princesses were announced. Students were allowed to vote for Homecoming Queen on their way out of the rally.

1. Sophomore Steve Carlson marches for peace in his class skit. 2. Stacy Schloemer, Lara Bogan, Kristen Danielson, and Terri Thorpe, add their bubbling enthusiasm to the rally. 3. The award-winning Raider band is conducted at the rally by Jennifer Taylor. 4. Junior Carrie Garfinkle takes a ride around the gym in Greg Oppegard's space buggy. 5. Jesus Valdovinos demonstrates the proper way to shave a koala. 6. Jennifer Garst and Christy Burton are thrilled beyond belief with the sights of Rio's gym.





Spirit Week

Red bow-ties . . . tight grey suits? Were fashion trends once again taking a drastic swing? No, it was simply Spirit Week at Rio! The week had begun with school picture day, very appropraite to the Homecoming theme. "You Look Mahvelous." Tuesday was PeeWee Herman Day, a dedication of sorts to the well-known actor/comedian. Some students attempted to emulate PeeWee's attire to a tee, while others showed up in anything typically nerdy. The week continued with a fifties day and an old favorite, Pajama Day. On Friday, each class had its own separate theme. Seniors dressed "beach," and as a result leis and Hawaiian print shirts could be seen everywhere. The juniors, who's theme was "space," showed up wearing anything metallic or futuristic. Many hippies were seen on campus as a result of the sophomore's theme - the 60's. And, the freshman class came sporting outdoorsey, camping clothes.

You Look Mahvelous!

The crowd waited in anticipation for the white rose to be revealed. And finally . . . a queen, Holly Snyder, was crowned. Holly and her court of princesses, composed of Madeline Rubenstein, Danielle Phelan, Linda Terra, and Karen Yttrup, climbed into their Corvettes, and off they went around the track. Following Holly's court were the junior princess, Dede Dugdale, the sophomore princess, Aimee Erhart, and the freshman princess, Laura Bass. The parade continued with the class cars. The Class of '89 rode in a van, anticipating the day they'd go to summer camp. '88 was seen in a VW Bus, masquerading as hippies. The juniors drove their space mobile, while the seniors, using a Rabbit convertible, went Hawaiian. Sue Pearson was the emcee for the event.

The next night was the Homecoming Dance, with the theme "You Look Mahvelous!" The Favero Sisters provided the entertainment. Tony Van Rees, the chairman of the entire event, remarked, "I think Homecoming '85 went really well and I'd like to thank everyone who helped and participated."

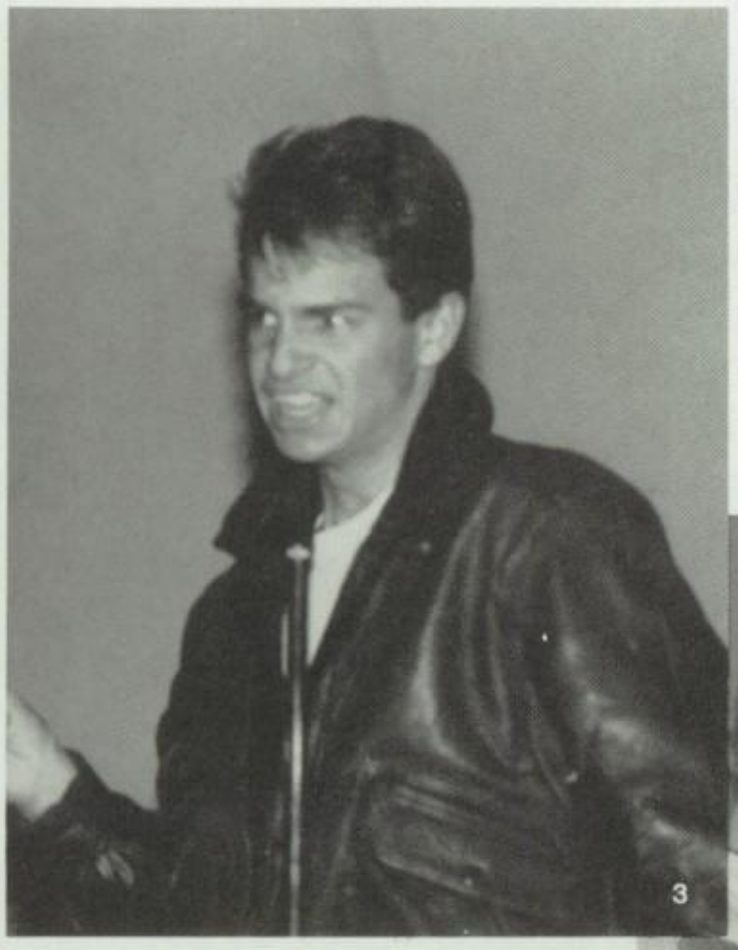
An Angle on . . .

Student Life

How do Rio students spend their time? In and out of school they participate in many activities ranging from seeing movies to studying for the academic decatholon. One thing is for sure; whatever they do, they do it well.

Rock Wars



Rock Wars 1986 was a tremendous success. For its second year, it proved to be one of Rio's most popular events, earning the junior class over $2,000. Rock Wars was highlighted by such bands as The Time, taking first place with "Jungle Love." The award for best costume went to The Andrews Sisters who sang "The Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy." The most original band was Adam Ant, and the award for best lip sync went to U2. Other outstanding performances included hits by Hwey Lewis and The News, The GoGo's, Oingo Boingo, and The Surf Punks.

1. Mitch portrays Morris Day. 2. Get down! It's an air raid. 3. He's one bad looking dude! 4. What a birthday present! 5. Rick Purvis thinks he's the coolest on campus. 6. Rio's own Huey Lewis and the News. 7. Hey Steve, didn't your mother ever tell you that your face would freeze that way? 8. Meredith, Diane, and Amy portray the Andrews Sisters. 9. Oh my adoring fans . . .

A team of over twenty-five athletes was sent to participate in the Special Olympics this year. The event, divided into the Summer and Winter Games, included such sports as basketball, bowling, swimming, and skiing. Rio students also participated in the Sports-A-Rama, which was held here ar Rio and attracted approximately 250 athletes from all over the Sacramento area.

Rio sent an outstanding mock trial team to the 1985-86 Law Day. After three months of coaching by the District Attorney, the defense beat El Camino and the prosecution smothered Cordova. They went on to the semi-finals, only to lose to Bella Vista; however, they ended up placing an impressive third place in the city, the second-best standing in Rio's history.

The moot court team also competed well, relying on excellent communication skills and quick thinking. Although they did not make the semi-final round, they gained, through their participation in the day's events, a respectable standing, along with much knowledge and experience.

Rio's Academic Decathalon team placed in the top fifth of the twenty-six school county competition. Their fine standing was a team effort; however, there were those who stood out. First and second places in overall highest points went to Kingsway Liu and Ken Beer respectively. The Mathletes, another academic team on campus, also did extremely well. Because of the large number of experienced members they, true to tradition, gained many victories and much knowledge.

Koichiro Ichinose -Japan
"I feel that America is a lovely place although I must admit that I am not as admiring as most about the U.S. technology and feel that America lacks the 'Bushido Spirit.' "

Jefferson De Castro -~~Columbia~~ Paraguay
"I feel very nicely about America, In my country I am a top athlete and my host family has enabled me to practice for the 1988 Olympics."

Isabel De Winter -Belgium
"I am glad to be in this wonderful country and I feel it is a great opportunity to broaden my cultural horizons."

Cibele Milreu -Brazil
"I enjoy America and the standard of living, though I miss the nightlife of my own country."

The students at Rio Americano had their own unique style and originality that was expressed in the way they dressed. Preppie and sophisticated were not as popular as comfortable, loose clothing this year. Oversized shirts and sweaters were seen more frequently than the perfect fitting tailored look. Everything worn appeared to stress individuality. Outlandish hairstyles and unique accessories were seen everywhere.

Weekends are a time for fun for Rio students . . . and fun can be found as close as around the block or as far as the foothills.

Believe it or not, the Burger King at the intersection of Arden and Fair Oaks still remains a favorite amongst Rio students. Whopper fans can be found running up to the drive-thru window (minus car) to gather their meals. In spite of Burger King's Herb, good ol' Ronald McDonald is still a leader with Raiders, and one of the hottest of the many Golden Arches seems to be the McDonald's near Fair Oaks and Howe. Lamppost Pizza is running a close third in the fast food race, providing a new hang-out for Rio students just a block away from Burger King. Dessert? No problem. In their everlasting search for the ultimate ice cream, many Raiders have settled on Double Rainbow.

Of course, all of this food can only lead to flab, so exercise is the key . . . and what better way to burn off calories than to shop?! The newly-built Pavillions shopping center has given Rio students a taste of high-class shopping and even higher prices! Dancing is also a great way to burn off fat and so Danseparc has become another Raider hot-spot. Of course Folsom Lake still remains the Rio "getaway" in the warmer months of the school year . . . providing a lot of fun and sun. And, last but not least, if you're ever in doubt as to where to spend your Friday night, head for that hot-spot on Marlburough Way, otherwise known as Mike Carlson's house . . . the senior drop-in.

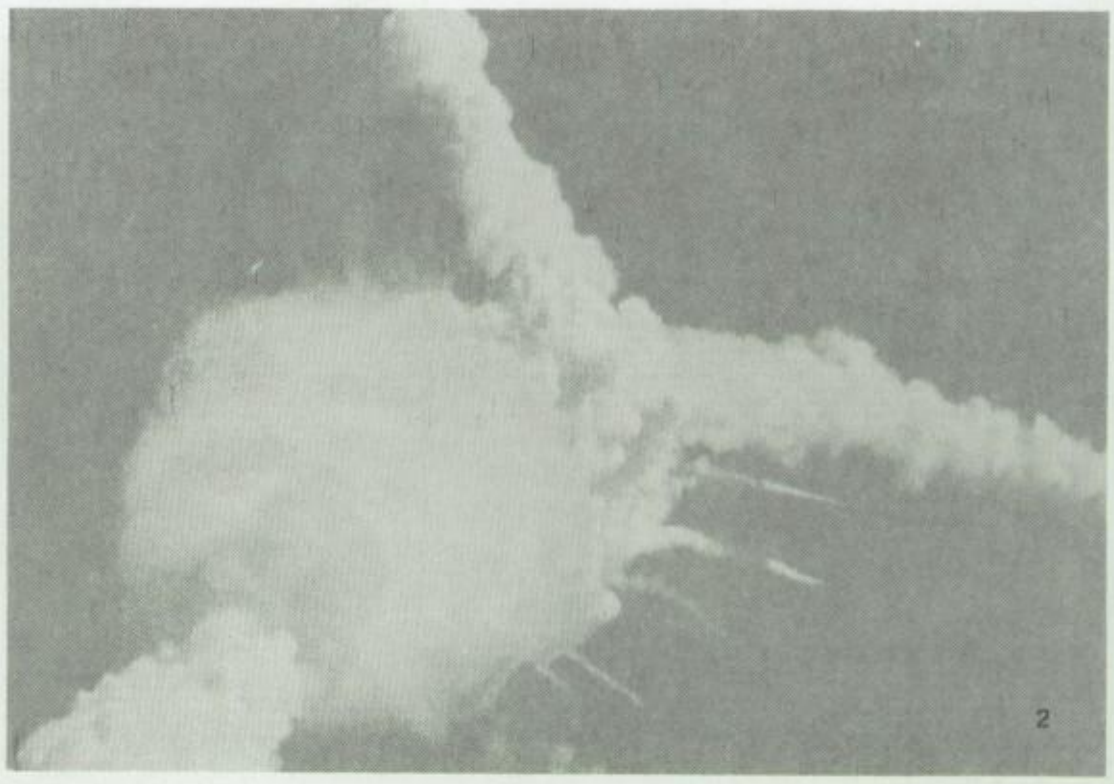
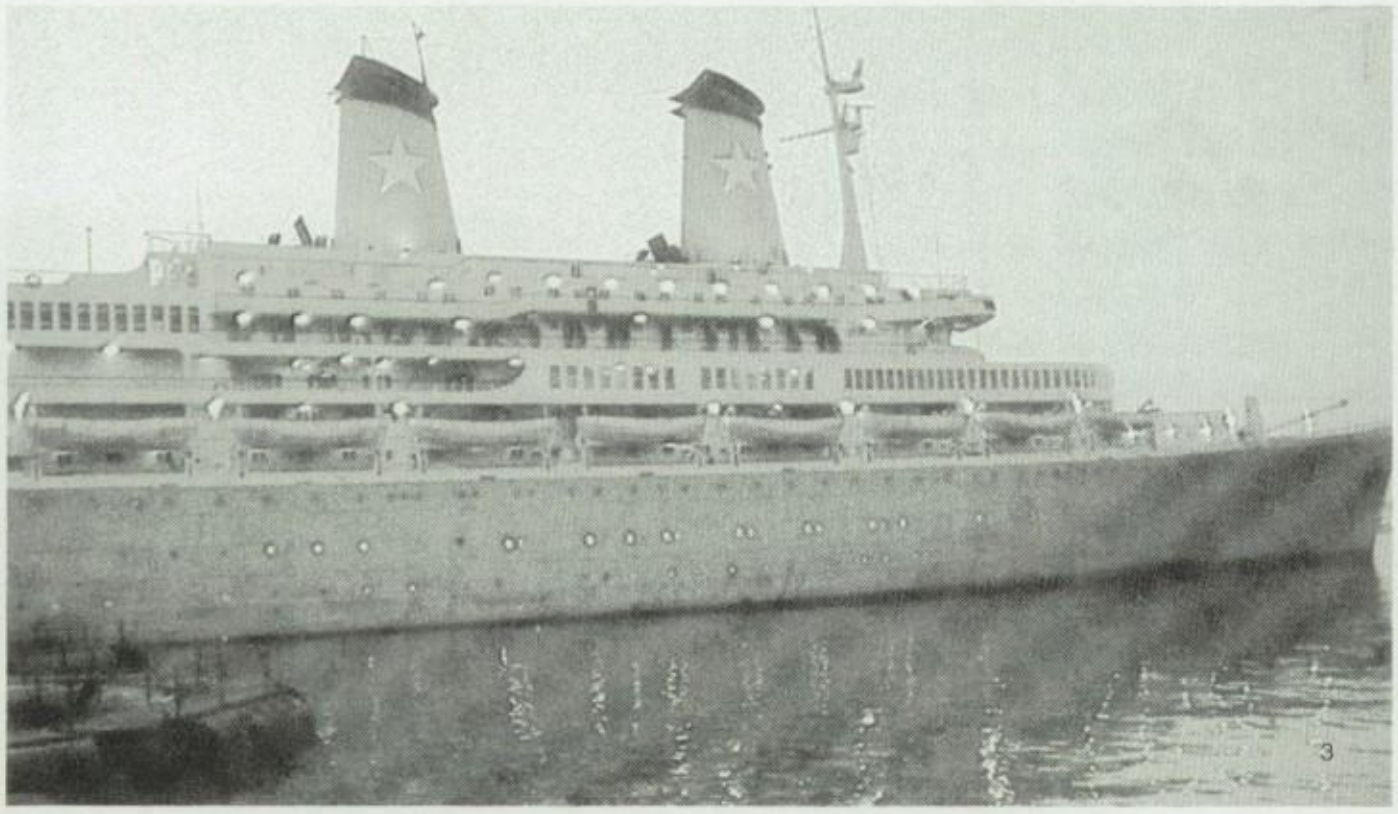
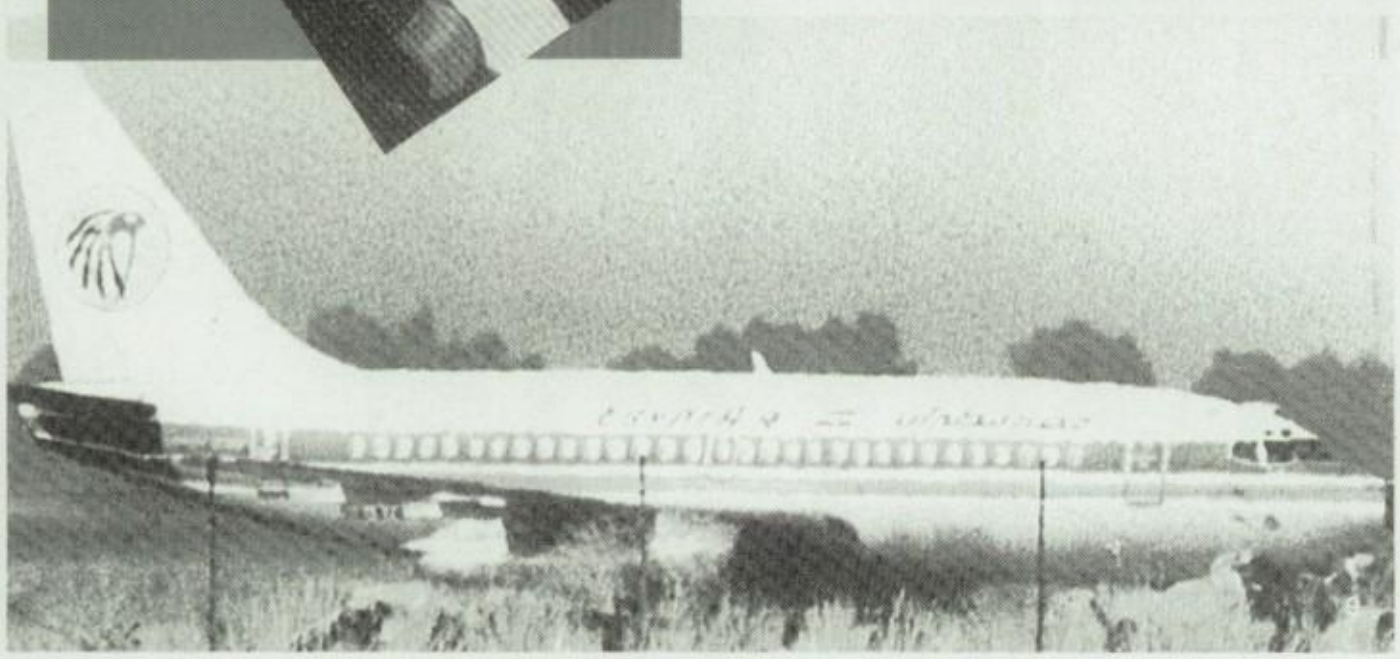
The Year in News







1985-86' was characterized by many tragic events. Many people died needlessly in some of the worst accidents ever. There were the most deaths in the history of air travel. The death of singer/actor, Ricky Nelson, was symbolic of the many thousands of tragedies due to plane crashes.

Terrorism became a prominent issue in the news. The hijacking of the Achille Lauro, along with the death of Leon Klinghoffer was a blatant example. Terrorism in Europe against Americans was evident in the death of the 11 year old girl in Rome.

The Mexico earthquake was most likely the most tragic event of 1985. More than five thousand people died because of this natural disaster. On January 28, 1986 the nation was horrified to learn that the U.S. Space Shuttle Challenger had exploded less than two minutes after takeoff. Seven people perished: Michael Smith, Francis Scobee, Judith Resnik, Ronald McNair, Gregory Jarvis, Ellison Onizuka, and the first teacher to be in space, Christa McAuliffe. There were also a few bright spots in the news, such as the plight of Humphrey the whale. He was a bright addition to Sacramento and the Delta. The kindness shown by Felipe Garza, a young boy who gave his heart to a friend, knowing she would die without it. gained widespread attention. Many events, such as "Hands across America," demonstrated the cooperation and concerned attitudes of people everywhere.

1. A toppled building fills a street in Mexico. 2. The tragic explosion of the Space Shuttle Challenger. 3. The Achille Lauro. 4. Felipe Garza, a loyal and caring friend. 5. Humphrey the whale makes a big splash in the Delta. 6. Nancy Reagan takes in the Mexico earthquake. 7. Terrorism, will it continue? 8. The death of Rock Hudson sparks the AIDS controversy. 9. Egyptian jetliner intercepted by Navy fighters.

The world of entertainment was very busy this year. The biggest musical event was definitely Live Aid, the global rock concert which benefitted the starving people in Ethiopia. Although no acts received star billing, Live Aid was enhanced by outstanding performances from groups such as U2 and a reunited Who. Farm Aid, organized by Willie Nelson, and a host of benefit singles and albums, dominated the music scene as well. Rock stars including Bruce Springsteen and Bono joined Little Steve on the apartheid protest song, "Sun City." Another major issue in music this year was the rock lyric controversy. Senators' wives battled rockers like Frank Zappa and Dee Snider over the censorship of lyrics mentioning sex, violence, and drug abuse.

On the lighter side, quite a few musicians toured the U.S.A. this year. Some of the favorites were Madonna, Wham!, and Howard Jones. Sting had his first solo tour, and Dire Straits had their most successful album and tour ever. Huey Lewis not only rocked the Ampitheatre at the State Fair, but also had one of the top-selling movie soundtrack songs, "The Power of Love." A number of rock stars tied the knot this year, among them: Bruce Springsteen, Madonna, and Simon Le Bon. Sting, Billy Joel, and Mick Jagger recently had additions to their families. Van Halen got a new singer, and Whitney Houston and Phil Collins dominated the American Music Awards and the British Record Industry Awards respectively.

This year saw a lot of activity on the silver screen as well. Former Sacramento resident Molly Ringwald went from The Breakfast Club to Pretty In Pink, and TV star Michael J. Fox journeyed Back To The Future. This year also saw the media's "Brat Pack" emerge, and long a favorite recording artist, Sting added two movies to his credit: Plenty and The Bride. He also made a documentary titled Bring On The Night.

The television industry was just as active this year. "The Cosby Show" was America's favorite all year, leading the Thursday night lineup of "Family Ties," "Cheers," "Night Court," and "Hill Street Blues." A new nighttime serial, "Dynasty II- The Colbys" lit up the telly, and "Miami Vice," "Moonlighting," and "The Golden Girls" were favorites as well. MTV continued to entertain us, along with "Entertainment Tonight." Several cable stations scrambled their signal, forcing satellite dish owners to pay more for their services.

We were also saddened by the deaths of actor Rock Hudson and singer Rick Nelson. This year in entertainment was one to remember, for the tragedies, but especially for the joys.

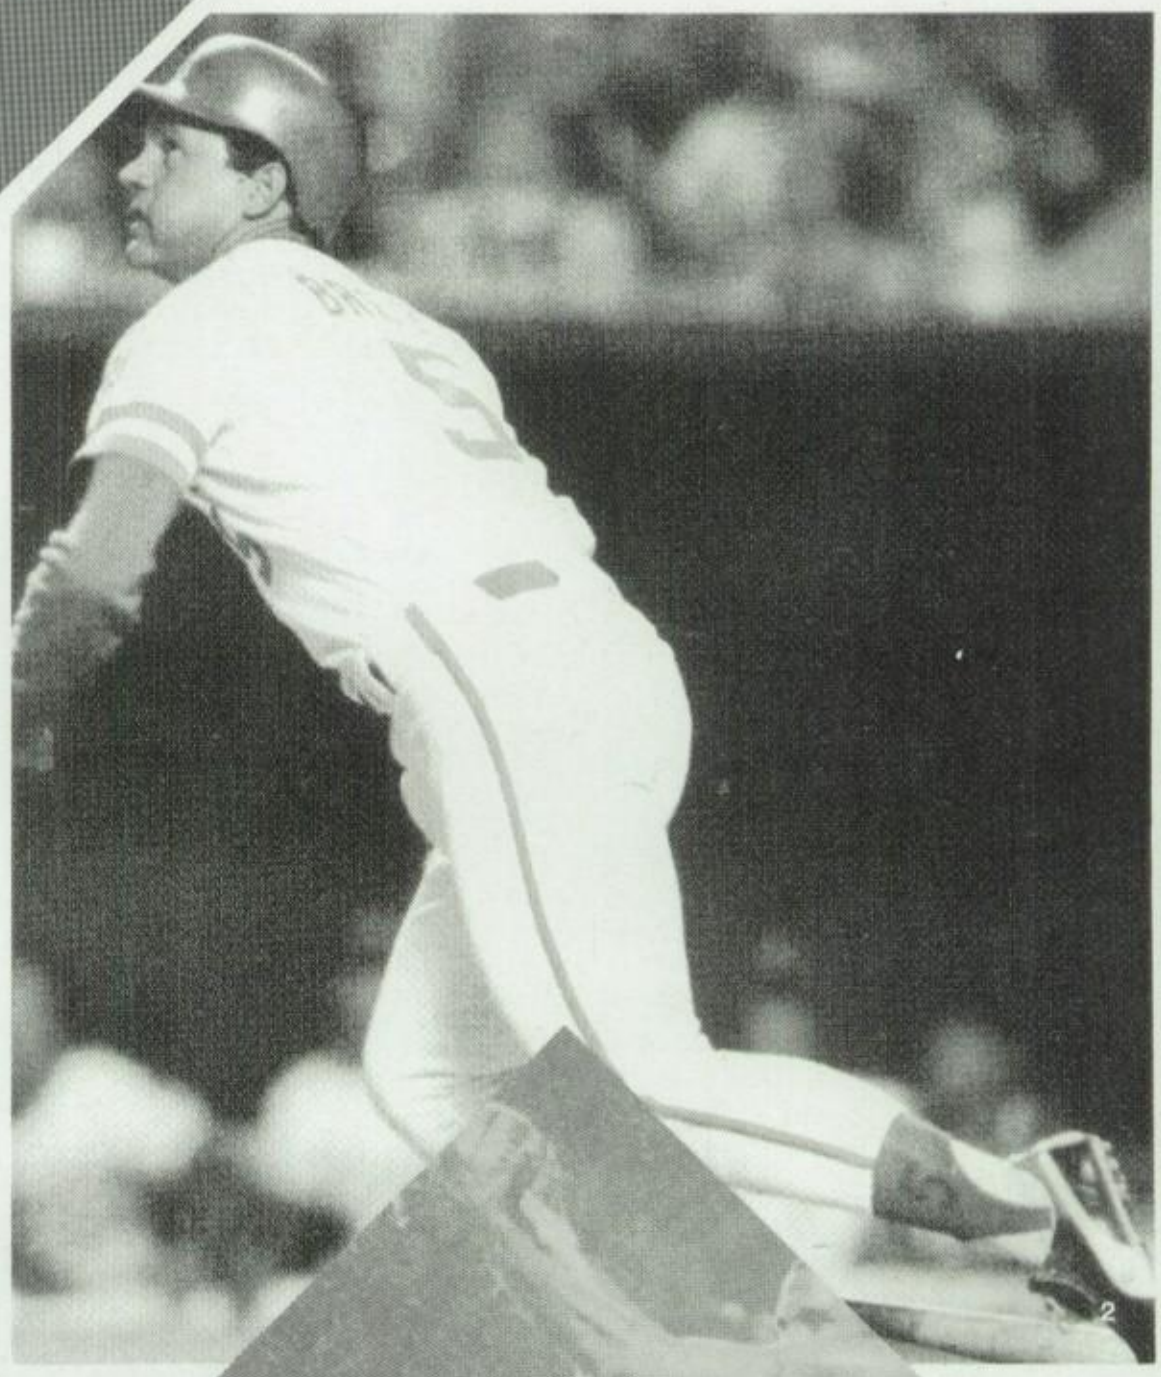
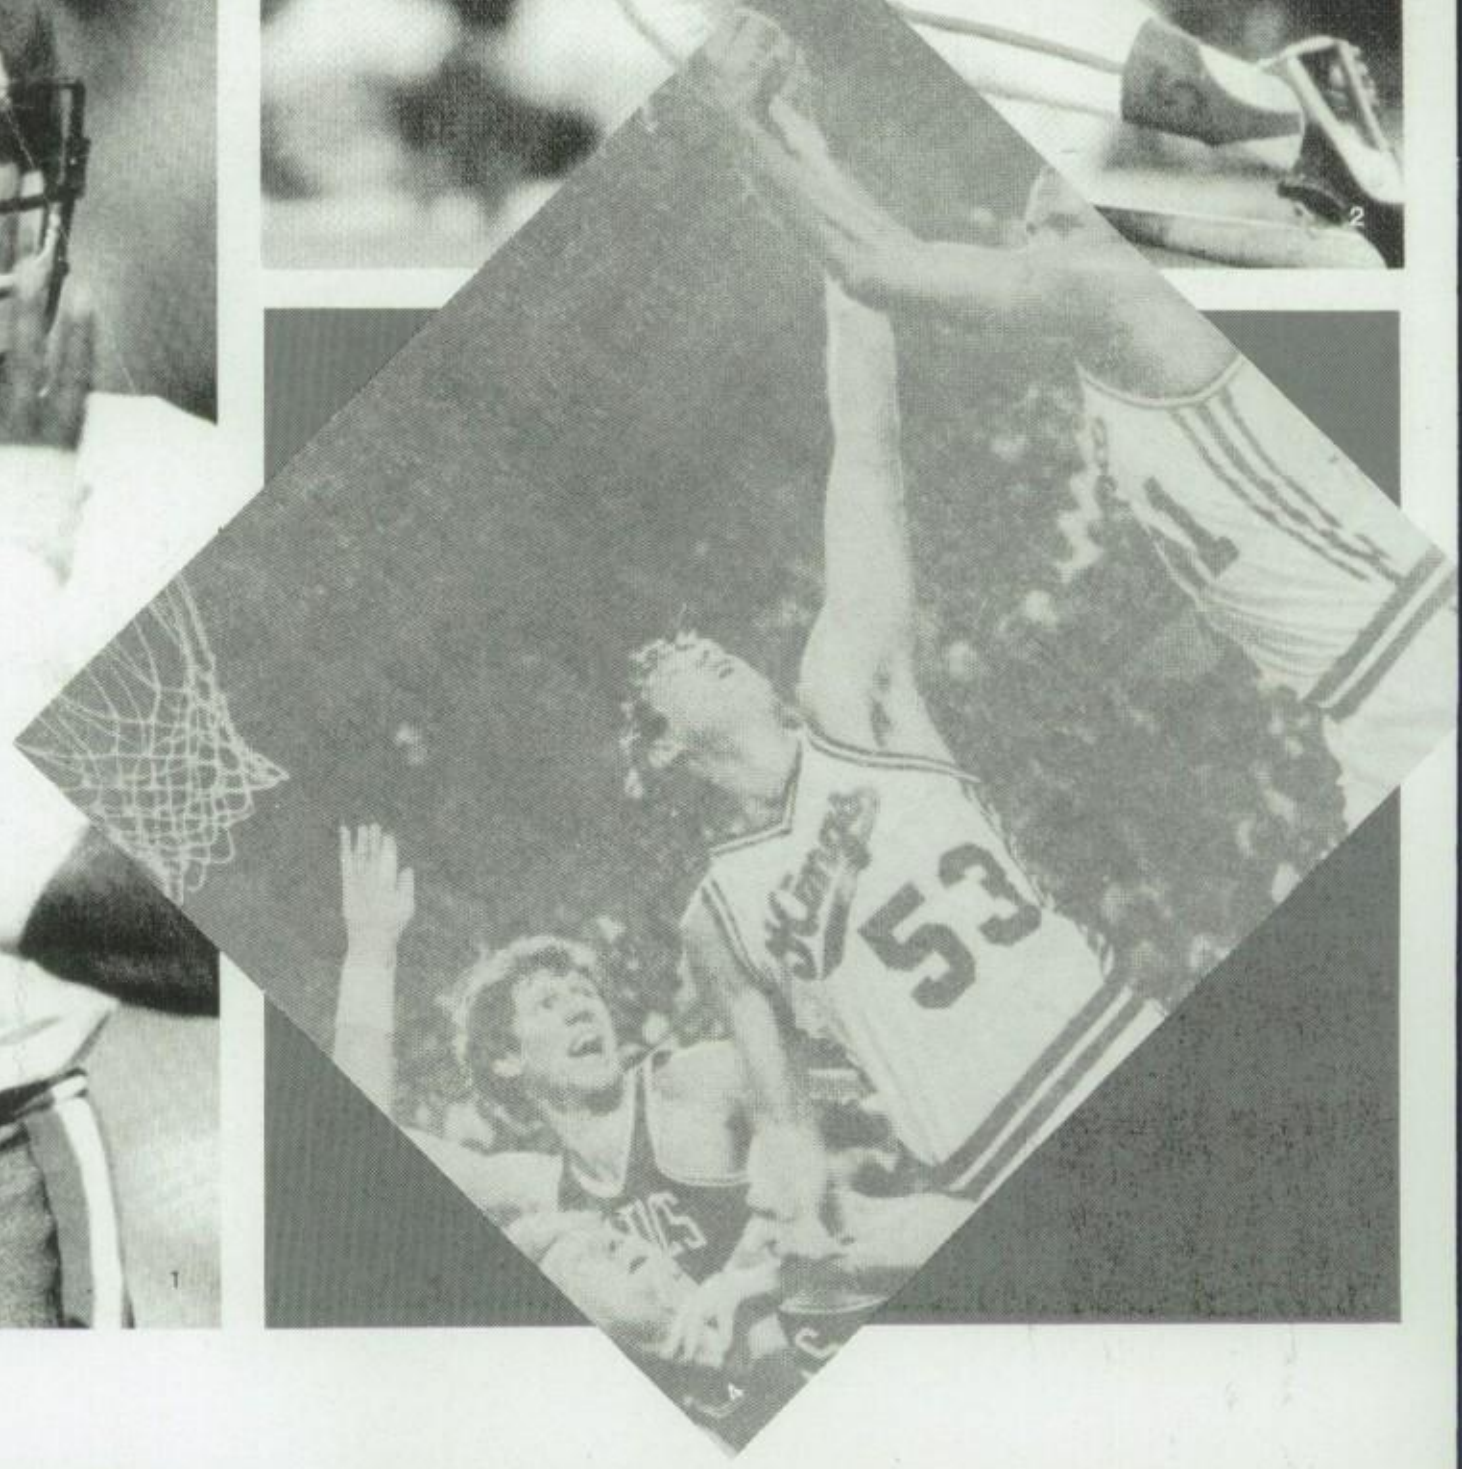
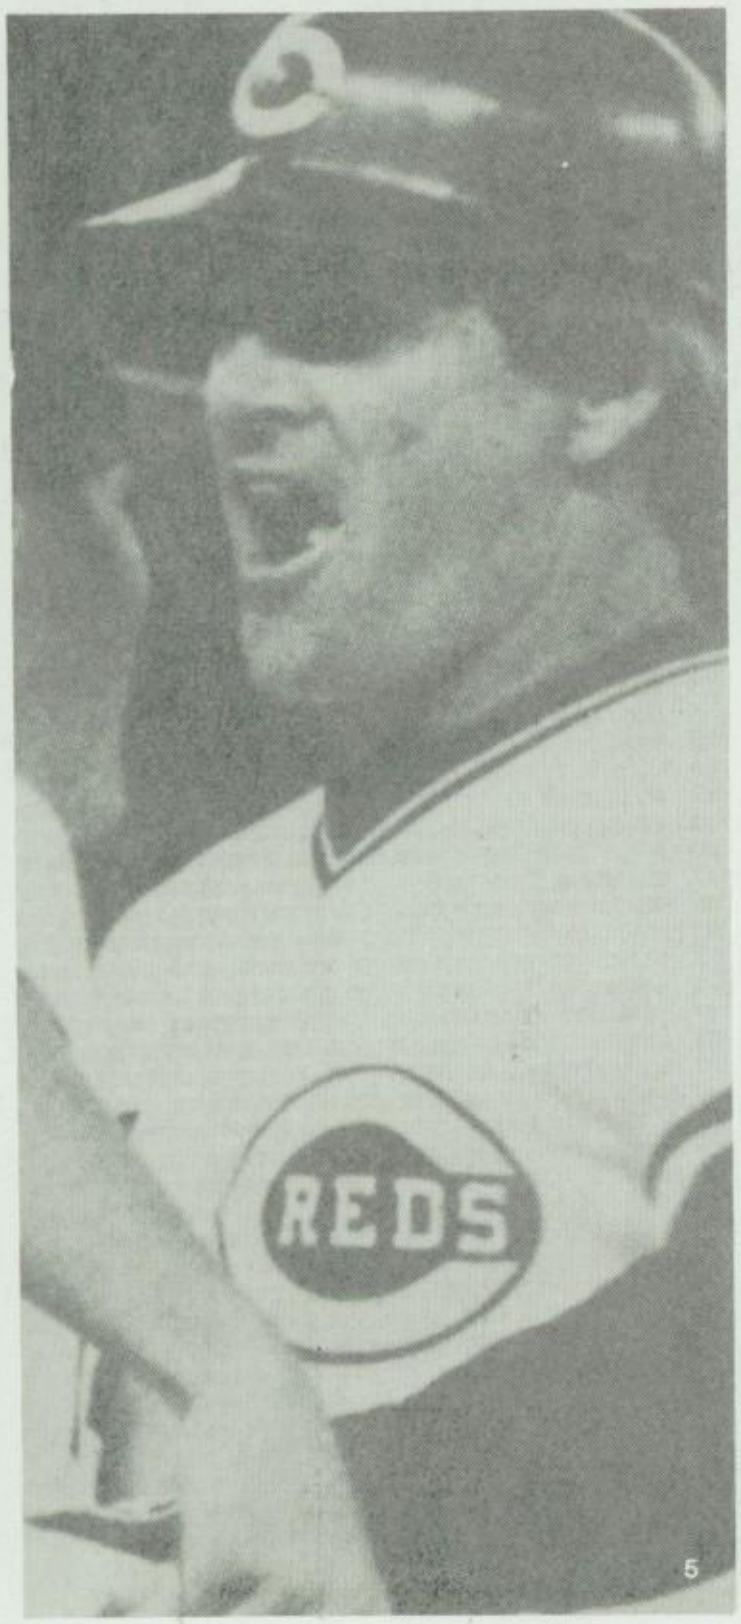
1. Rick Nelson will always be remembered in our hearts. 2. Howard Jones' "Dream Into Action" tour was one of this year's best. 3. The Material Girl caught the PMRC's disapproving eye for her "suggestive" lyrics and dances. 4. Sting asks Meryl Streep's forgiveness in the film Plenty. 5. Who can ever forget Bruce's 15-month "Born In The U.S.A." tour? 6. Live Aid just wouldn't have been the same without Mick and Tina in a "State Of Shock" in Philadelphia. 7. Bill Cosby and Lisa Bonet made "The Cosby Show worth watching. 8. Thanks, Steve, for waking the world up to the horrors of apartheid. 9. Molly Ringwald will always be one of Rio's favorite actresses.

The Year in Entertainment

The Year in Sports







1985-86 was an exciting season for sports. In tennis, Boris Becker, at the age of 17 became the youngest man to win Wimbledon. The baseball season was also eventful. Pete Rose broke Ty Cobb's old record for the most hits in a career. The Kansas City Royals came from behind to beat the St. Louis Cardinals in a 7 game World Series. Another record was broken in football. Roger Craig of the San Francisco 49ers became the first player to rush and receive for over 1000 yards in a single season. The Chicago Bears drew much attention both on and off the field. William "The Refrigerator" Perry was featured in a McDonald's commercial and articles describing the Jim McMahon-Pete Rozelle headband controversy were in abundance. The Bears eventually shuffled their way past the New England Patriots to win the Superbowl. And finally, Sacramento was introduced to major league sports with the arrival of the Kings who played for sold out crowds throughout the entire season.

1. Jim McMahon sets up to throw a pass. 2. George Brett starts a trot around the bases after hitting a home run. 3. Walter Payton lunges into the endzone for a TD. 4. The Kings upset the Celtics. 5. Pete Rose celebrates after breaking Ty Cobb's old record. 6. Tony Eason rears back to throw a bomb. 7. Roger Craig of the 49ers cuts back into a hole.

TWIRP, held in late November, was proceded by a spirit week which included such activities as Twin Day and Collegiate Day. A rally was held at the end of the week which generated a high level of enthusiasm among students. It featured a performance by the Blockettes and the announcement of the TWIRP royalty. The theme was Disneyland the small gym was appropriately decorated with Disney rides and characters for the deejayed dance.

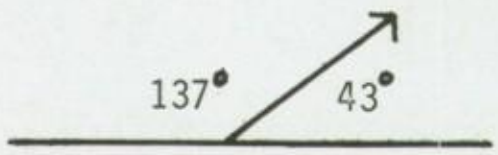
Every year, the Key Club chooses one Key Club Sweetheart. The members selected this girl through eight sophomore and junior nominees, and then interviewed each nominee in an embarrassing interview. Questions such as: "If you saw someone masticating, what would you do?" were posted, and the girls were judged on their responses. In the end, the Club voted on Julie Newhouse to be the 1985-86 Key Club Sweetheart. Congratulations Julie!



The S Club dance was a big success this year. The club nominated nine guys who were each rated on their responses to twelve extremely embarassing questions asked by a panel of judges. On the night of the dance, the S club escorts took the guys out to dinner at The Old Spaghetti Factory, and then went to the dance. The guys were each given a candy bar at the dance and the guy who received a white chocolate bar was proclaimed the S Club Dream Guy. Matt Ruggles was this year's Dream Guy. The S Club Dance was also highlighted by pictures with Santa Claus, portrayed by Steve Johns.

The Modern Dance class had a successful third year, growing quite popular with Rio students. The class met sixth period with Mrs. Janet Hoyt. They created spectacular steps and moves for their concerts, impressing all that attended. The class was large this year, making it possible to expand into other forms of dance, such as ballet, jazz, and aerobics.

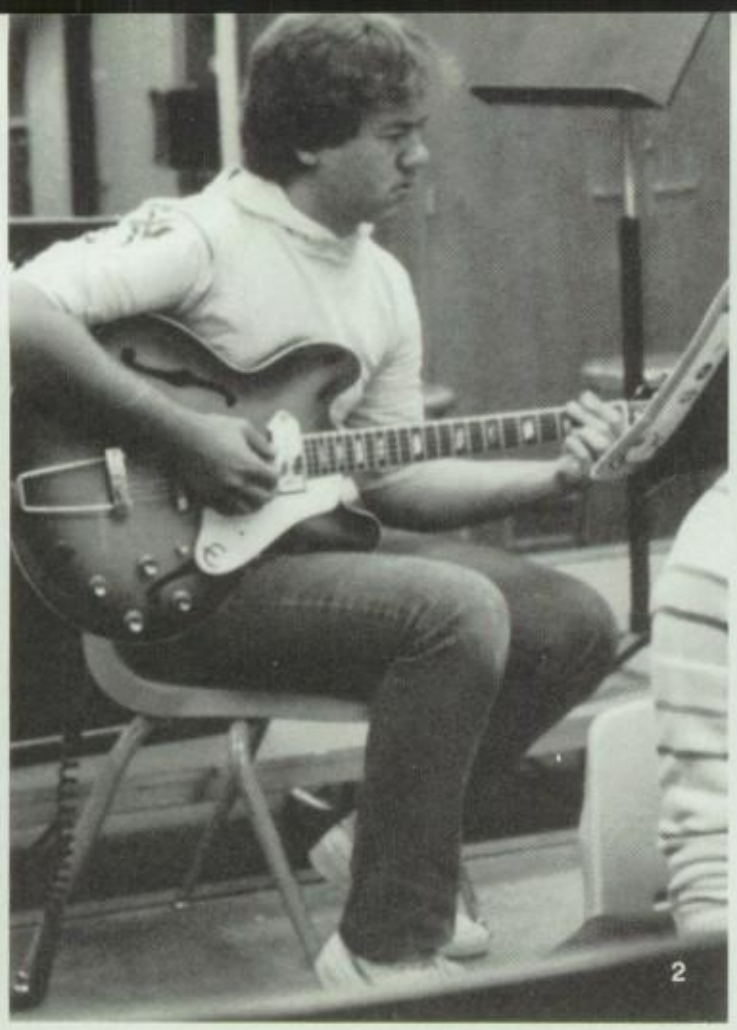
1. Janet Hoyt and Faith Wrenn discuss a few steps. 2. Beth Schultz leads the Rio Rockettes. 3. Like a troop of swans, the Modern Dance class shows their stuff. 4. Jeneane Ezzell leads the new morning workout. 5. Stacey Nauss practices for her performance. 6. Shawn and Nicole punk out. 7. EEK!!!!! 8. Sarah Foster-Davis flashdances to the music.

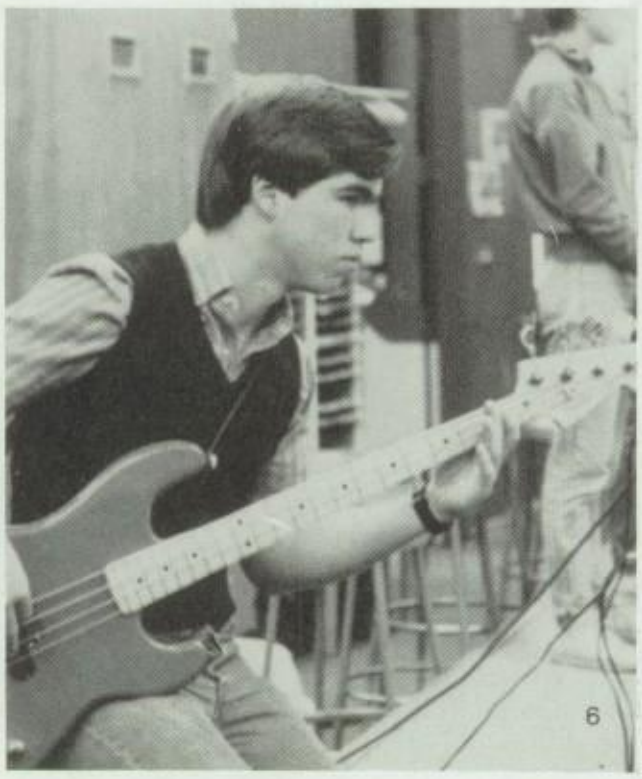
Rio's AM Jazz Ensemble has become the standard by which all others are judged. With first place and superior ratings in every competition in the last 2 years, our musicians are respected throughout the state. We received 9 awards at the prestigious Redwood Empire Jazz Festival including; 1st place AAA division, Best Trumpet Section, Student Composer Award- Matt Perrine, and soloists- David Etterbeek, Jon Etterbeek, Mike French, Isaac Parsons, Mark Allin and Kyle O'Brien. Our AM Band was also invited to perform as special guests at the Pacific Basin Band Festival in Hawaii over Spring Break. And by special request and popular demand, they will travel to Holland this summer for the North Sea Jazz Festival as part of their European Tour 1986.

1. The powerful trombone section impresses their audience. 2. Two of Rio's explosive soloists, Kyle O'Brien and Mark Allin, perform together. 3. "Hey Isaac . . . wake up!" 4. The jazz ensemble features a fantastic sax section. 5. David Etterbeck likes jazz hot! 6. "Play softer," says director, Craig Faniani. 7. The award-winning trumpet section. 8. Rio's A.M. Jazz Ensemble. 9. Jordon Stockton and Jon Etterbeck concentrate on their music.

A.M. JAZZ ENSEMBLE

P.M. Jazz Band





The PM Jazz Band has become a tradition here at Rio Americano. This is PM's third year in existence and it has proven to be one of the major jazz forces in the San Juan District. The band captured first place in its division at the Redwood Empire Jazz Festival at the Cal State Sonoma, and will be competing in four other festivals later in the year. Our outstanding Saxophone Quintet, comprised of Susan Allison, Al Hoover, J.B. Hay, Ashely Robinson, Cheryl Klaiber also competed as a combo within the larger group. Our PM Jazz Band has brought much pride and recognition to Rio and continue to do so this year.

MARCHING BAND

Concert Band

The Rio Concert Band achieved international fame this year with an invitation to and performance at the Pacific Basin Band Festival in Hawaii. Rio was one of only three California bands honored with an invitation to perform in Oahu.

1985 was also a great money-making year. The 5th Annual Play-A-Thon, co-chaired by Jay Anderson, Lisa Lloyd and Molly Wood, raised 15,000 dollars to deter costs of the Spring Tour to the Islands.

The Band continued to uphold the Rio tradition of pride and musical respect at home and across the seas. It was a banner year!

The Readers Theatre's 1985-86 production, "Mighty Man and the Zombie Curse!" was presented to enthusiastic audiences at Arden Intermediate School as well as here at Rio. The production was featured as special entertainmemt for the San Juan District's Theatre Arts Festival and was performed for a competition in CSUS's Lenaea Play Festival. The performances were applauded by students and faculty members for the humor they conveyed and the excellent acting that has long been a traditional element of Rio's fine drama department.

The Creature Creeps, a satirical comedy was presented on February 27th and 28th. Starring roles were played by Vance McCausland as Baron Von Blitzin, Jerry Marshall as the very creepy servant, Mord, Eric Mauerman as the naive and nerdy Frank Sterling, and Hilary McLean and Krista Bogetich as Daisy and Babsy, college coeds.

The authentic Transylvania Castle set was both designed and built by Eric Mauerman. Francis Assadi did the sound, Pete Krysinski worked the lights, and Laura Sharpiro was in charge of make-up and costumes. The play, directed by Betty Miller, was received very well by the Rio audiences.

The Rio Americano Student Government has once again set a precedence of excellence. This year's Student Government was made up of a diverse group of students working toward improving Rio Americano. The Student Government worked toward making our campus, cleaner, improving school spirit, developing the quality of clubs on campus, putting on excellent dances and rallies, and becoming active in the community. In keeping with its tradition of improving the school, the Student Government helped fund a new training room for all the athletic teams. The class was also involved in the community through the Peer Leadership Program, SADD, and through the efforts of the entire school, large amounts of food was donated to the needy. The student body was very supportive of the school's activities and as always, our cheering section at the various sporting events was outstanding. All of the events were made successful through the the support of the student body and faculty. The entire Student Government thanks you for your effort. The Student Government class also deserves much praise for their hard work. Many students spent countlss hours before and after school working on everything from details of a dance to painting posters. I would like to thank everyone in Student Government for their effort and enthusiasm in making the 1985-86 school year one to remember. I would also like to thank Mr. Chuck Gebhardt for his help and for the unique learning experience his class provides. Through-the efforts of many people the Rio Americano tradition of spirit and pride was once again shown. Thanks again for your support and good luck in all of your future endeavors.

The 1985-86 Student Government was outstanding in their efforts to improve Rio. Many extra hours were put in by its members to promote school spirit and offer the student body as many quality activities as possible. Record amounts attended our dances, Homecoming made more than $4,000. Intramural sports during lunch were also strong, with volleyball, badminton, and basketball leading the list in popularity. Student government also worked for better student/teacher relations by listening to the students' opinions and relating them to the faculty. Rio Americano students should be proud of Student Government's hard work and dedication to the school.

Also included in rows 4-8: Debbie Dorris, Ellissa Spertus, Steve Johns, Erik Finnerty, Mat Ruggles, Chris Dunbar, Cassie Stevens, Kathryn Austin, Kingsway Liu, Melinda Tilly, and a bunch of other people we don't know.

This year's Junior Statesmen chapter from Rio was one of the most active ever. Led by Presidents Mat Snyder and Kathy Weaver, JSA attended two statewide conferences as well as held many debate nights, seminars, and thought talks. A highlight of the year was a JSA sponsored debate for the candidates for the San Juan School Board. The entire chapter was very dedicated and should be congratulated in their efforts.

Key Club

The 1985-86 Key Club was the most successful ever. Membership was up, more freshmen joined than in any other year, and a foundation was laid for a strong community service reputation. The Key Club held a dance, a carwash, worked at many community projects (such as tree planting and the Special Olympics), and had several funfilled parties. All in all, the club did a lot for Rio and the neighborhood. It is definitely one of Rio's proudest features.

"S" Club

The 1985-86 "S" Club was a very active one, both in the school and in the community. It sponsored such events as the "S" Club Dream Guy Dance, and a joint potluck dinner with Key Club. It also raised funds to donate to local charities. The "S" Club is proud to have made this year one of the best it's ever been.

Mountaineering Club

Mountaineering Club, a new club at Rio, is a group of students interested in experiencing the wilderness. During the year, it held trips in the fall and winter, and held discussions on equipment, clothing, cuisine, survival, cross country skiing, snow shoeing, and snow camping. It also took several trips, to Horsetail Falls in Desolation wilderness, the Donner area, Carson Pass, and culminated in a long trip to the Eastern Nevada.

Computer Club

The 1985-86 Computer Club focussed on fund raising events, so that they could purchase more equipment for the computer lab. Many events included car washes, bake sales, and programs written for teachers by some of the members. The club also met frequently at lunches, and traded software.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club continued its tradition of encouraging enjoyment and knowledge of the Spanish language and culture. Spanish Camp, a three day "Spanish Only" weekend at the ocean topped the years events, while guest speakers including foreign exchange students and Sacramento's Mexican Consul gave interesting presentations to club members. Other activities included Spanish movie week, and fiestas.

Madrigals

The Rio Madrigals got off to a slow start this year, but they eventually became stronger. Mrs. Frazier, a new teacher to the school, slowly but surely made herself known. The group learned to work together as a unit. Each individual person in the group possessed many talents.

During the year, the Madrigals auditioned for the Northern California Honor Choir Program. This program was one of the highlights of the year, and everyone worked very hard to get in. Four members of our Madrigals made it; Debbie L., Kathy A., Michelle B., and Christine S.. The Madrigals had joint concerts with other schools in the district this year.

P.S.B.F.

The Rio Americano Political Science and Business Foundation is now in its second year. This club met every two weeks at the CSUS library. They researched geopolitical and historical conflicts and set up a series of complex simulations to see if these conflicts could occur in modern times. Mike Irish was the founder, but left the group to have Arvin Rao take over as president.

Cooperating closely with Rio Americano's debate squad, they took part in numerous open class debates in the Golden State Debate Circut over issues such as water quality control

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, Les Amis De France (The Friends Of France) is for Rio students who speak the language or want to learn about the French way of life. The French Club activities centered around experiencing French culture. This year, club members participated in activities including the sampling of French foods, watching French movies, and listening to French music. In March, the club had a large banquet which featured a well-known French singer. Club president, Danielle Igra, and advisor Mrs Miller worked closely together to make this year's French Club more successful than ever.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club started out the year by participating in an old German tradition, the Oktoberfest. In December, members of the German Club celebrated the holidays by having a party. At this party they tasted different German foods. An important part of German culture is to have many celebrations. So the club also had a party at Straw Hat Pizza. (Is that German?) After eating pizza, they sampled a variety of German pastries. They also experienced the cultures of other countries at the Foreign Language Banquet, which was a success.

LATIN CLUB

Toga party anyone?! These students may not be straight out of Animal House, but they certainly know their Latin. Although this club, the "Amici Latinae Lingae," is not very large this year, its members are extremely spirited. By day, they are hard working students attempting to learn and preserve one of the world's ancient languages; but by night they are comitted to upholding their club's motto, "Veni, Vidi, Feriam egi." (I came, I saw, I partied.) Members chose to do this by experiencing traditional Latin toga parties. With a motto like their's, there is no doubt that the Latin Club had a great year!

S.A.D.D.

S.A.D.D. (Students Against Driving Drunk), which was just formed last year, is different from every other club on campus. This group of concerned students works very diligently to help preserve something very important to all of us: Life. S.A.D.D. president, Kari Pendleton says her club's purpose is to make students aware of the dangers of driving drunk. The club also advocates Safe Rides, a program which gives rides to needy people and provides an alternative to drinking and driving. This club sponsored S.A.D.D. Week in the spring. It featured Bryan Potts day and the sale of T-shirts and bumper stickers. These students should be commended for dealing with the problem of drinking and driving in a mature and practical manner.

C.S.F.

Rio's outstanding academic accomplishments have allowed the California Scholarship Federation to become a strong club on campus. For the first time in many years, the C.S.F. had an extremely active year. Some of their activities included a visit to the U.C. Berkeley campus, Christmas carolling, and Spring Conference. According to President Mike Matsumoto, the club appears to be coming back in popularity. The C.S.F., which originally functioned as a service organization, now recognizes Rio's outstatnding scholars. These students work very hard to maintain the high academic grade point average which qualifies them for membership. This work does not go unrewarded. If, at graduation, a senior has belonged to the club for four or more semesters, they are eligible to receive a ceremonial yellow cord symbolizing outstanding achievement.

N.H.S.

It has become apparent over the past years that the National Honor Society truly thrives at Rio. This select group of seniors are some of the best students in the country. In order to be selected as a member of the National Honor Society, a student must maintain a high grade point average, exhibit outstanding citizenship qualities, and on top of it all, they must also participate in extracurricular activities. The senior class is proud to say that N.H.S. has more members this year than it has had in the past three years. This is one club where the members definately have to earn their membership. Congratulations!

A.F.S.

With last year serving as its introduction to Rio, the American Field Service was able to establish itself as a club again this year. A.F.S. functionsas a service organization which helps to attract foreign exchange students to Rio, and it also sends our students to foreign countries. President Anne Chappuie stated that A.F.S. also provides emotional support to those foreign exchange students already at Rio. The ultimate goal of this club is for students nationwide to be educated about the similarities and differences of existing cultures.

FORENSICS

This was the first year for the Forensics Club, but under the leadership of President Dianne Chipps, the club got off to a good start. This club, which is involved with speech, debate, and drama, was formed to give students the opportunity to participate in formal debates. The debate team that the Forensics Club sponsored turned out to be surprisingly good for its first year. This team, which was the center of almost all Forensics' activity, competed monthly in the Sacramento Valley Forensics League against other teams from throughout the valley. All of the club's members were very enthusiastic, and it appears that the Forensics Club has rooted itself in Rio's soil permanently.

KRAT KRAT KRAT KRAT

Rio Americano boasts one of the most highly sophisticated Radio and Television Programs in Northern California. Its success is noted by the large number of graduates that go on to four year universities, graduate and then become successful in professional mass media stations throughout the United States, Locally, KRAT graduates are working in our 3 major telelvision stations: KCRA, KXTC, and KOVR, along with countless others in local radio stations. The thrust at KRAT is education first, not vocation. Writing skills, Directing, Producing, Editing, and Technical Skills are taught to ensure a well rounded media student. We are the only high school media class that local stations will take interns from, which speaks for the quality given to each student and the reputation given to the station.

KRAT boasts the most highly sophisticated equipment available to broadcast students. All of this is made possible through Turntables Unlimited, a store that cares about the community that surrounds it. Three years ago Turntables Unlimited made the Rio Media Program a community service project and the end result insures high quality education for the series media student. An insistance on education and quality has made KRAT-Rio Americano, a place for those who are serious to learn.

RIO MIRADA

Two years as the Rio Mirada's editor has taught me many things and I think one of the most important is confidence in other people. This year, thanks to an excellent staff, I was finally able to delegate important responsibilities to staff members without worry, knowing that the tasks would be accomplished. The quality of the Rio Mirada has steadily increased and I believe that the majority of the congratulations go to a great group of people. The staff's tremendous contributions of work, energy, and many after-school hours made this year extra special. Thanks!

It is difficult to believe that, after a year of what seemed like pure insanity, the 1985-86 Tesoro is completed. Because of the many problems we have met and overcome, there is a great sense of accomplishment and pride in finally finishing the book. Although the entire yearbook staff contributed long hours in order to meet our deadlines, there are a few people who deserve extra recognition: Taurie Cromwell, for taking on more work than I thought humanly possible, Lisa Lloyd and Arvind Rao, for always coming through in the end, Garrett Peck, for keeping everything in order (alphabetical), and Mr. Fantani and Cindi Tebeck, for all their effort and encouragement. Without these people this book would not have been put into it, I hope that it will be enjoyed now, as well as in future years.

Varsity Football

The Varsity team for the 1985-86 season undeniably had a difficult time. The Raiders worked hard through the summer, preparing for the upcoming season. Although this year was not very successful, the manpower skills have improved since last year. Through effort and dedication the Raiders worked as a team, not as individuals. There were solid players in every position.

Throghout the unpredictable season, the players were consistently unified. In a sense, the members felt they became even closer because of the challenges they underwent together. The Varsity team showed extreme spirit and enthusiasm which helped the Raiders considerably! Our Raiders played with heart, giving it there all! The Varsity team produced many exceptional players, such as the following: Team Captain award went to Steve Johns; Outstanding Offensive award was received by Jeff Krouse; Outstanding Defensive award was received by Scott Alford; Nathan Doyel was Most Inspirational player; The Most Improved was John Semans; while The Most Valuable player was Andy Hindman.

JV Baseball

This year's sophomore baseball team was a top-notch ball club. Throughout the season, the entire team was able to show poise and finesse due to their long hours every day after school. The team was led by pitchers James Tomasetti and Blair Doyle, who were truly exceptional on the mound. The offensive attack was led by Spencer Grimenstein and the team was guided by the fabulous Coach Lee. Congratulations on the great success, guys!

Cross Country

This years cross country team was the biggest and the best in recent years. It was highlighted with outstanding performances by varsity runners Katie McKinley and Jeff Ilfeld, along with JV runners Bill Dauphinais and Heather Eller. The JV teams had a fantastic year with the boys team finishing first in league, second in sub-sections, and eighth in sections. The girls JV team

Wow! What a season! Our 85 volleyball season has all too quickly drawn to a close . . . leaving the players and fans yearning for more. Every home game was eagerly devoured by the devout fans and the "Lady Raiders" never failed to please the crowds. Especially memorable was a five game winning streak in which several players set new records. The only Juniors starting, Denise Duffy and Denise Pane, proved to be double trouble for other teams, as they annhilated the opposition. Seniors, Sonja Colman and Amy Dawson, placed powerful shots low over the net, much to the dismay of many teams. Meanwhile, seniors, Holly Snyder and Christy Burton, made it a personal point never to let a ball go by without inflicting their wrath upon it. One victory especially relished, was their decisive stomping of Encina: three games in 45 minutes!

JV VOLLEYBALL

It was a rough season for the "85" JV Volleyball team. In games they won, the girls played as a team. Players like Christie Johnson, Ann Glyer, and Rachelle Druliner, really sparked the team when they were in, and put excitement into the game. Coach Alexa Pritchard said "The team played much better than their record indicated", and ending the season 5th in the league.

Waterpolo

The waterpolo team witnessed an outstanding season. Starting the year off with an excellent new coach, Joe McLean, the talented group won the majority of their games by a wide margin of points. The leading scorers were Jason Tipton, John Griffin, and Matt Strauch. Although the team put many hours of hard work into practising, the players felt that it was one of the most enjoyable seasons they have had.

Varsity Soccer

The 1985 Raider Varsity Soccer team maintained its brilliant winning custom with a pure 10 wins and 3 ties. Under the coaching of Bert Terry and the leadership of seniors Dean "The Enforcer" Hancock, Larry "Boom-Boom" Washington, Rob "Sowbug" Sowers, and Scott Humphreys, the team performed well. Rio, of course, went to the Tournament of Champions and grabbed second place in the Capital Valley Conference. Sophomores Pete "The Terminator" Petersen and Alex Hoang provided youthful inspiration to the team. Coming off the bench to provide strong support were Bob Gezi and Scott Sherburne. Sherby said, "Bert shoulda used me early." The Terminator, in a most classic statement said, "_____." Part of the Raider's success came from the superb defensive play, which was spearheaded by two year starters Mike Matsumoto and Denny Lee. Covering the net was all CVC goalie, Rob Sowers, who stopped a major portion of all shots directed toward him. Mike Rabb's agressive goaltending also helped to turn the tide of many games. Dean Hancock was selected all city and was voted MVP of the team. Although the Raiders were plagued by injuries and ineligibility, they became known as a soccer powerhouse in the Sacramento Valley.

JV Soccer

Rio's '85 JV team had yet another outstanding season, continuing a long tradition of winning. Setting a new JV record for the longest winning streak in our history, Rio expected a little trouble with archrival El Camino, but ended up roundly trouncing them. Led by Kevin Schlachter, Jack Nelson, Eric Bonney and Topher Nelson the team did great. "Schlock" led the team with 28 goals. The last 3 games he moved up to Varsity, Eric Harvey also joined him. The team sorely missed Joe Reardon who was the first casulty to fall while attempting a last ditch defense. The team put in many long hours and hard work and truly deserved their reward, the CVC Championship trophy.

GIRLS TENNIS

Congratulations once again to the fabulous Rio Americano Girls Tennis Team which has reigned throughout the area for more than a decade. Under the direction of Coach Boeher they gained the CVC league championship. Several outstanding players, such as Kristin Viani, who won the sub-sections in singles and was the #1 player in the league, and Laura Floyd, Ila Kriplani, Amber Hicks, and Claire Sebastian, who played doubles in the CVC sub-sections, helped the team out immensely. Fantastic job!!!

Once again, Rio continued their basketball dynasty under the skillful coaching of Al Manfredi. With only one returning starter to work with, it looked as if our glory days were over. Not so, as the team and coach were all too willing to prove to the cheering River Rats. Indeed, the Rats did have something to yell about: Rio was undefeated in regular league games! The larcenous "Mr. Bridges" had frequent opportunities to show off his talents, and his steals became a trademark of the team. Of course, we claimed the CVC title with no contest. With the newest team member from Montana, Ty Bernard, Rio was able to control the rebounding throughout the season. Using the glass to his advantage was forward Larry "Boom-Boom" Washington: a significant advantage within the key. Jared Mikacich proved that in his first year he too could be a strong all-round player. And of course, we can't forget the coach, Mr. Manfredi, who put in just as many hours as the actual players. Great team, great season!

JV Basketball

For yet another season the basketball talent of the Class of '88 shined through. Following up last years CVC title, the JV squad was undefeated with a record of 12-0. Again, several key players deserve special attention: Kevin Schlachter for his high- -scoring play, James Tomasetti for his unselfishness and spirit, Todd Mahugh for the tough rebounding he was able to pull under pressure, and Steve Nelson for everything that's left over.

Freshman Basketball

Spunk. That one word best describes the newest batch of Rio basketball players. Carrying on the winning tradition of previous Raider teams, the frosh proved to be dangerous opposition. Lawrence Taylor, due to his powerful offensive capabilities, was one of the many outstanding players on the team. Coach Lee has done a fine job with the newest basketball team. Way to go frosh!

Girls Varsity Basketball

What a season! Our heads still swim and reel from the Lady Raiders' magnificent performance this season. Spurred by a strong performance from Amy Dawson, the team was able to maintain its traditional record, winning. Inspired by young blood, sophomores Christie Johnson and Monique Coughran, and freshman Tish Bernard, the hardened vets were able to roundly trounce most of the opposition. Of course, Rio went to the Tournament of Champions. Now that the season is over, it is time for them to reflect and thank all their faithful fans, parents, and understanding administration. Way to go, Rio!

Girls JV Basketball

Following their male counterparts, the girl's JV squad was also a dangerous pack of hoopcats. The team was able to consistently outplay the opposition and it was real great when all five of the basketball teams came home with victory in their teeth. The team was aided by large numbers of returning players. These "veterans" often proved to be the difference between winning and losing. But the freshmen were also significant members of the team. The team would like to thank all those that made this season a success. We would like to thank them for their outstanding performance. Next year's varsity ought to be able to match this years, we expect (and hope!).

Varsity Badminton

While other teams were suiting up in pads and helmets, Rio's newly reinstated Badminton team changed their shoes and came out swinging. The fantastic Varsity line-up included first-rate birdie smashers Rieko Oi and Doug Newcomb. Since Rio hadn't had a team for over 5 years, the players were a little rusty, but the expert coaching of former state badminton champ Al Manfredi shaped the talented team. Look out Nor Cal Badminton Invitational, here they come!

Varsity Baseball

The Varsity Baseball team had yet another outstanding season. Rio remained a tough team to overcome because of great pitching and a strong lineup. The pitching of Tom Hotchkiss and John March helped the Raiders through their winning season. The main offensive punch came from Bill Enos and Scott Humpherys. But none of this compared to the value of their coach, Jerry Kaesar. Without his invaluable knowledge and expertise, all the team's skill would have been left unused. The entire team's hard work and dedication contributed to their success.

The 1985 J.V. Football team performance was outstanding this year. Coach John Hawck and assistant Coach Dave Hogg molded the team perfectly. They did a tremendous job leading the Raiders to a 5 win and only 4 loss season in league play. The years most valuable player was James Tomasetti. This young football star was the Raiders top quarterback. With an amazing throwing arm he led the Raiders to an outstanding season. But they wouldn't have done so well if it wasn't for the awesome Raider offensive line which did an extraordinary job. Leading rusher, Tony Espinoza, an explosive tailback with great outside speed. Barton Bassett led the Raiders with the highest number of tackles. Next year the team has set goals to win the Capitol Valley Conference Championship.

The freshman football team had another exciting year. Under the coaching of Bruce Lagomarsino, assistant coach Bubba Bacon and Paul Medina, they won 5 out of their ten league games. Quarterback Laurence Taylor and running back Lance Gebhardt were key offensive players, with strong defensive support from Brian Mahony and Todd Jones. Wide receiver Tom Gray also helped out the successful passing game. Congratulations to another winning Raider team!!

Girls Varsity Soccer

Under the successful and diligent coaching of Bert Terry the "Lady Raiders" proved well able to take care of themselves. Using great expertise, Mr. Terry brought out the very best in every one of the girls. A tough and spirited defense contributed greatly to the overall record and performance. Kelley Silvers, astute and swift goalkeeper, helped keep the number of goals scored by the opposition low. Again, the seniors proved to be among the star players but the frosh made their weight felt. A "killer" offense was one of the best things about the 86 girls varsity soccer. Outstanding season and performance!

1. Bert's maxim: "Use it early, before you lose it . . . " 2. Vikki gets down in the dirt . . . 3. Alright, I want you to go out long and you to block those tackles . . . 4. The killer offense prepares to claim yet another victim. 5. Diedre shows what Rio's tough D means. 6. Gina Latino and Kirsten Mayhren slug it out midfield with another team.

Girls JV Soccer

Much to the dismay of surrounding high schools, Rio was able to sport a girls JV soccer team. A superb offense sliced through many a team's defense like a warm knife through butter. It was the downfall of many other local teams. Meanwhile, the determined and dependable backs did a fine job of defending the goal. The Knepshields combined efforts often kept the ball from going that far back. Susan Stein also did a great job keeping the ball in its proper place -out of our goal.

Front row: Alicia Arbogast, Nancy Kimmel, Susan Stein, Karen Matson, Laura Dugdale, Darby Morrisrow. Second row: Kim Fishback, Darcy Hall, Monique Coughran, Kathy Austin, Katie Knapp, Pam Paulson. Back row: The Boss, Melissa Martin, Jennifer Rose, Whitney Vanderbundt, Krista Van Rooyan, Felicia Puerta, Amy Knepshield, Kristen Lenk, Alison Knepshield.

1. One of the Knepshields retreats back to give a banana kick. 2. With a great leap, Jennifer prepares to mutilate an unseen soccer ball. 3. Moving swiftly, Whitney tries to drill the ball into the goal. 4. Julie and Darby, dribbling with skill, move the ball downfield. 5. Sprinting for the ball, Alicia shows her World Cup potential. 6. Jennifer plays with strong determination.

Varsity Softball

Batter up! The Varsity Softball team gathered last year's stars, new recruits, and several JV players, and hit the field with enormous energy. The brand new coach, John Ludington, led the Lady Raiders through a great season, aided by outstanding players like Kelly Lawrence, whose fantastic speed was a great help, and Christy Burton, who was an All-Metro shortstop. The large amount of juniors on this year's team will mean a lot of returning players for the 1986-87 season.

Swimming

Our swim team has again proved to be an exceptional fighting force. This was partially due to the solid coaching of Bob Walker and Martha Chase, but mainly due to the dedication of the swimmers. They went through daily rigorous practices and exercises, often at very odd hours. Even though a large number of people trying out for the team were cut or quit, the few who remained proved to be formidable opponents for other schools. A few who distinguished themselves above the rest were Matt Strauch, Shelly Ries, Scott Reynolds, Angela Whitcomb, Mike Hagen and Nathan Barankin.

1. Coming out of the water, Angela Whitcomb does the Butterfly. 2. In a spray of water, Nathan Barankin pushes forward. 3. A member of the diving team slices into the water. 4. Nathan Barankin and Chris Parsons wave "bye-bye".

Varsity Boys Tennis

Dedication . . . determination . . . drive. These three words best explain the success of the boys tennis team this year. Coach Gebhardt brought out the best in his team. But, of course, he had several players with great talent to begin with. Some of these outstanding players included: Curt Lee for his excellent serving, Mike Phipps for his fierce offense, Captain Brett Ehrlich for his swift mobility, and, of course, Kevin O'Neill for his overall ability. Many other strong team members contributed to the great season and kept up the winning tradition.

1. Goodwin Liu returns his opponent's serve. 2. Sophomore Ashok Shankar displays his winning forehand. 3. Mike Matsumoto focuses his attention on the returning ball. 4. Ken Beer gets ready to defeat his opponent with his stunning backhand. 5. The 1985-86 Varsity Tennis Team. 6/7. Kevin O'Neill proves himself one of the most outstanding players in Northern California. 8. Another smashing return is executed by team captain Brett Ehrlich.

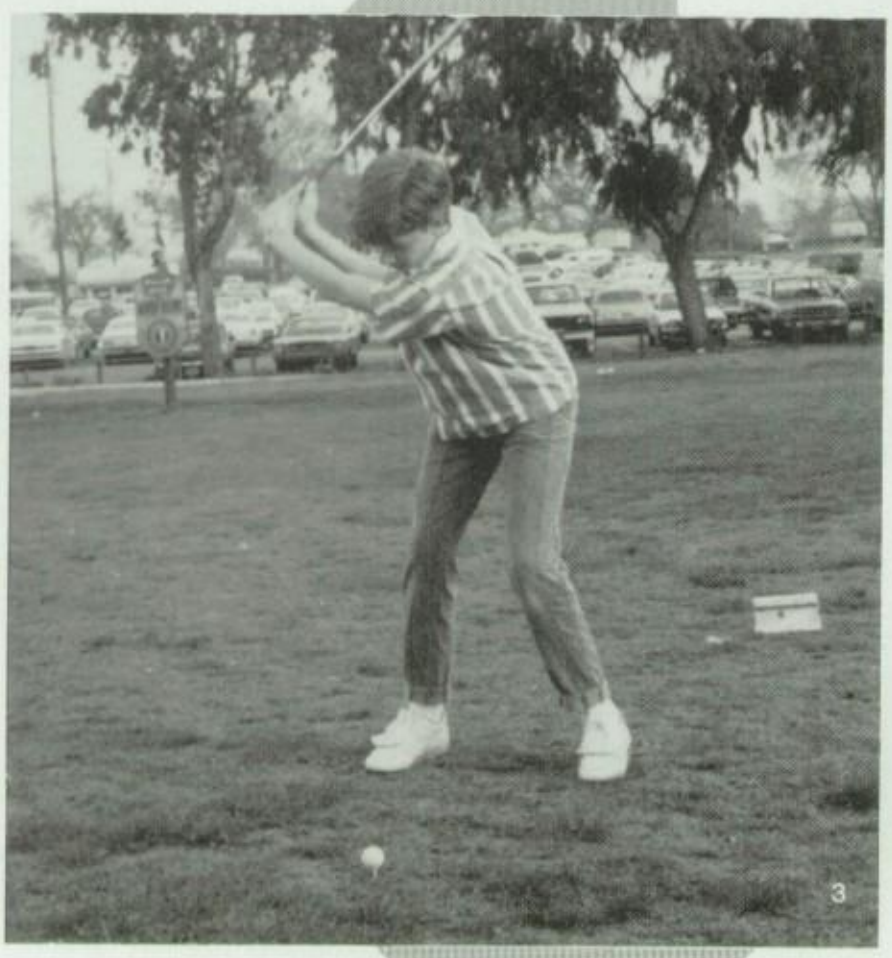
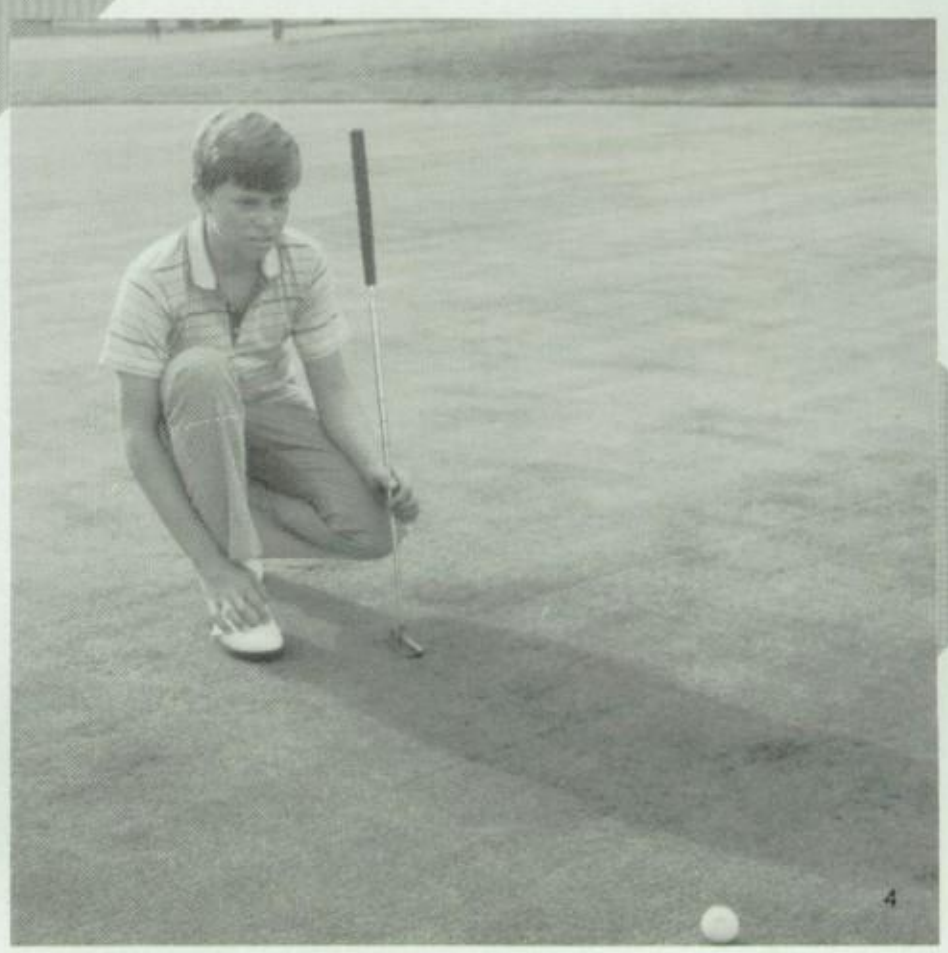
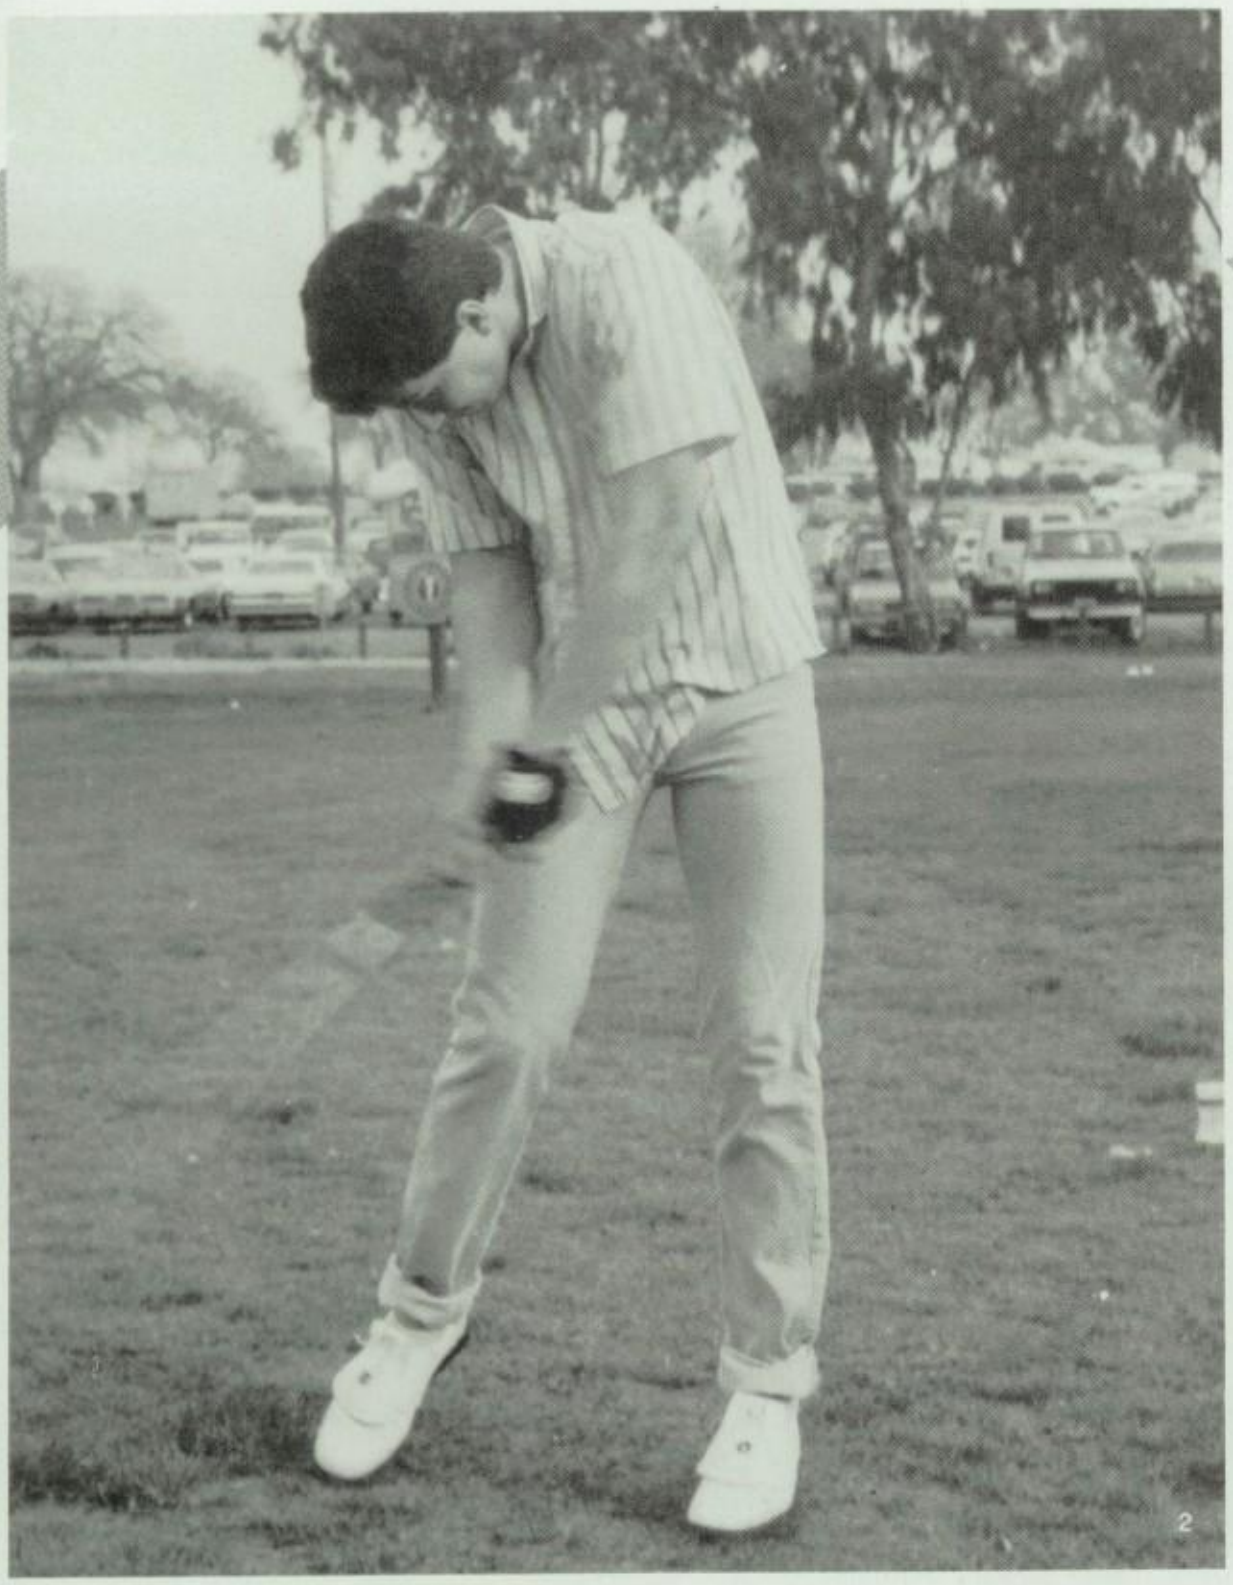
Golf

The '86 golf team, under the leadership of Coach Jolley had a very fine season. "The team this year was more inexperienced than last, but they did well," he commented. Senior Pat Daniels and junior Derek Gilchrist proved to be outstanding players for the Raider team.

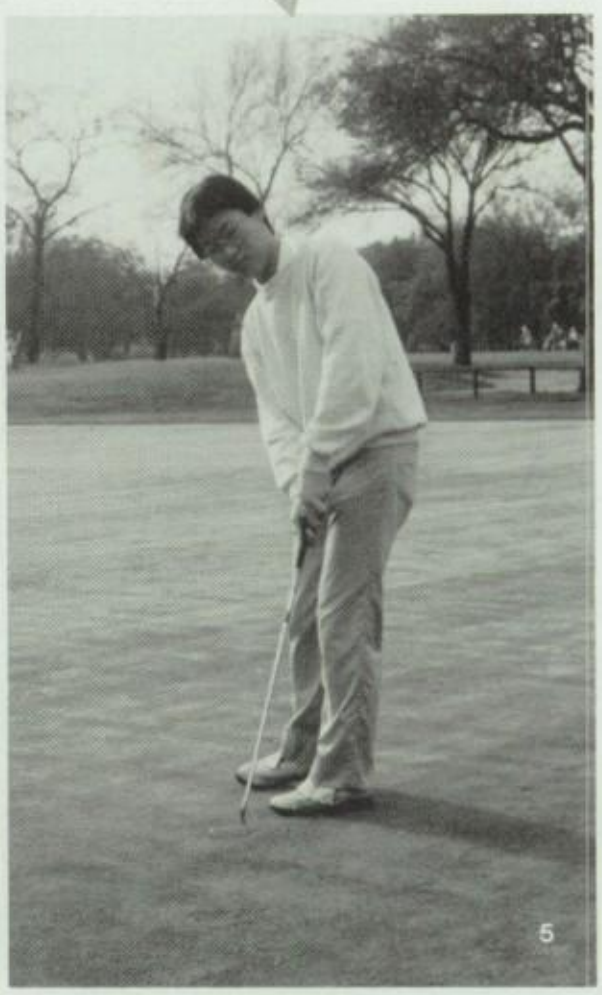




Front Row: Sean Covairt, Beth Wright, Erin Murphy, Nicole Fisher, Drew Smith. Back Row: Coach Jolley, Greg Garcia, Jim Sedlar, Dae Kim, Richard Gordon, Jeff Cattalini, Derek Gilchrist, Scott Harrison.



1. On the motion to a drive, Nicole Fisher swings with intensity. 2. What action! 3. Sean Covairt looks cool with the driver. 4. Scott sights the ball in preparation for a putt. 5. Dae Kim comes ever somclose with the putt. 6. Derek Gilchrist takes a moment to concentrate. 8. Scott Harrison shoots for BIRDIE. 9. What a swing!



VARSITY SONGLEADERS

This year's Varsity Songleaders have had a very busy year. Not only did we cheer and perform at Raider football and basketball games, but also choreographed and presented a Goodwin Cole Fashion Show.

The eight of us worked hard in zero period and had many late night practices in order to make rallies, games and halftimes more exciting, we did our best to support Rio and increase school spirit.

On behalf of the 1985-86 Songleading Squad, I would like to thank everyone for helping us support the Raiders in every event. I would also like to thank my squad for all of their time and effort. Ill miss the times we had together.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The high spirit for which Rio is recognized was clearly demonstrated by the individual and group talents of the 1985-86 spirit squads and the strong River Rat support. The Varsity cheerleaders were especially enthusiastic in helping to promote the school goal of pride and unity. Our long hours of practice and dedication awarded us with a USA superior trophy, as well as an outstanding finish at competition. The year was full of an explosive spirit which brought on great victories for all the teams and the spirit group.

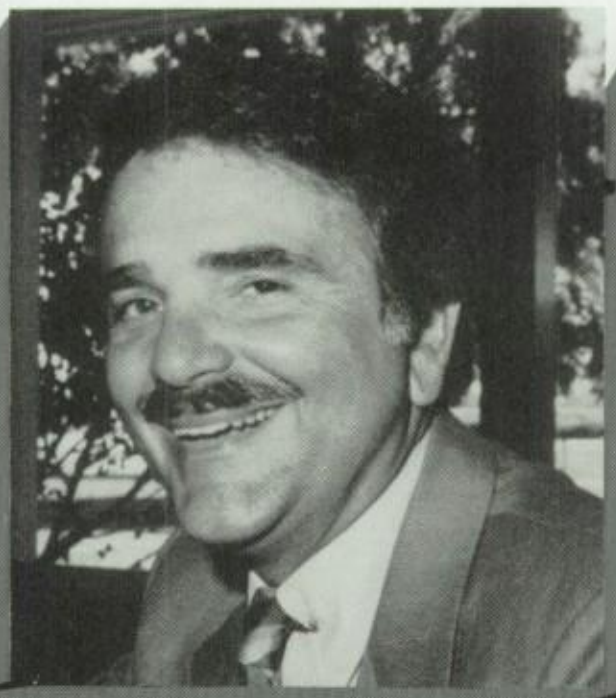
Administration



"Successful people will open up the line of communication." This is one of the many things that Dr. Uzelac likes about Rio Americano High School. He finds the students neat and friendly. Dr. Uzelac feels that the students here at Rio are high achivers, and excel at things they do or like.

Dr. Uzelac likes the way that the students parents are just as interested in the students achievements as the students themselves. He also likes that some of the teachers are concerned with their students and their grades.

Dr. Uzelac was inspired to come to Rio Americana High School because he knew the school well. And he felt that he should "throw his hat in the ring and apply." He did and he got the job

Finally, Dr. Uzelac is totally impressed with the way Rio is organized and well layed out. He also feels that it is a very solid school.

"Successful people know at a young age what they want out of life." This is one of the many things that Ms. Martin likes about this high school. She finds the students at Rio warm and very open with each other. She also thinks that students at Rio are very responsible and act like adults.

She was inspired to come to Rio Americano High School because it is so organized. She felt that it was an organization that she could fit into.

She feels that the school itself should work on its image, and she's willing to help.

Science

The science department had a busy year in 1985-86. A new teacher, Diana Beebe, arrived on the staff from Stanford University, while another teacher, the beloved Chuck LaDue retired his "A mole is a mole is a mole" motto and left Rio. Robert Parker took over his classes.

Advanced Placement Biology was added, taught by Nancy Smith and Steve Ruggiero. The department's busy year won them a $12,000 computer and ITV grant.

The Rio Americano mathematics department boasts a highly qualified staff: two masters, five majors, and one minor. Most of the staff members serve on district or statewide committees which address curriculum and standards.

The accomplishments of the students include constant high scores in the Mathletes, MAA (Mathematics Association of America), and Academic Decathalon competitions.

The curriculum ranges from General Mathematics 1 through Calculus and includes Consumer Math and Transition to College Mathematics. Graduates report they are well prepared for the college curriculum.

Physical Education

The Physical Education department added quite a lot of equipment this year. The weightlifting classes received a new Olympic bench press and new quadrocep and hamstring benches, greatly aiding the students. The modern dance class obtained five new tape recorders which enhanced the sound system during small practices. Both weightlifting and modern dance were the beneficiaries of the S.I.P. program as well. The tennis courts were also resurfaced, adding to the atmosphere of the programs and the school.

Foreign Language

Rio's Foreign Language department offers 4 year programs of different languages such as French, German, Latin, and Spanish. We also have excellent AP Spanish and French 5 programs. There are over 600 students in foreign language at Rio, which shows that we are obviously oriented toward the importance of perfecting a second language.

The German classes enjoy foreign language to its fullest. 6. "Now what happened to Hamlet in Act 2?" 7. Krista Bogetich and Denver Beattie give their opinions of vocabulary words. 8. Sean is desperately seeking this femme fatale.

English

English classes at Rio strive to preserve the balance of literature, composition, language, and verbal skills. One of our goals is to install the appreciation of literature through careful analysis of short stories, novels, plays, and poetry. Composition, including correct usuage, spelling, logical organization, and creative expression, is another skill emphasized throughout the curriculum. Vocabulary development is stressed because of its importance in literature, composition, and verbal skills. By understanding the grammatical points of language, students will achieve competence in punctuation, capitalization, and sentence structure/variation. Verbal skills are developed to enable students to speak appropriately in a variety of situations. Such a balance of English skills should produce students who are confident, competent, and successful people.

Industrial Arts

Industrial Arts, Technical Education, 'Shop', or whatever you choose to call it, it is the application of practical education. Whether it's Auto, with sophisticated tune-up equipment, Wood, Metal or Drafting, with high-tech computer-aided drafting systems, it's hands-on education. We are proud of our programs at Rio where everyone benefits.

Business

The Business Department here at Rio teaches students many things. The department encompasses typing, computers, inside and outside work experience, and an outstanding ROP program. One of the best areas is typing, its goals being to enable students to type their own papers in college and to assist them in getting future jobs. The department's Introduction to Computers shows students the various uses of the computer, plus word processing and programming.

Performing Arts

As an example of the excellent performing arts program, Rio's music department has expanded again. The curriculum now includes Concert Band 1 and 2, AM and PM Jazz Band, Guitar, Music Appreciation, Madrigals, and Concert Choir.

New this year is our choir teacher, Mrs. Laverne Frazier. She began to advertise and build the program just after school opened this year and has succeeded in making choir a tradition at Rio again.

Rio's music program is recognized throughout Northern California as first rate. From September to January alone, Rio's groups collected fourteen awards for outstanding musicianship and were invited to participate in the prestigious Pacific Basin Band Festival in Hawaii.

Mr. Gunn -Senior Class Counselor

Rio has come to the end of another year, and with it another graduating class. However, the Class of '86 has proven to be more than just another class. Through our four years at Rio, we, the Class of '86, have grown to be a family that has remained together as a singular spirited unit, while at the same time, retaining our individuality. Because of our on-going spirit, we have seen many successes, such as our rally skits, "Fantasy Island," and "We Are the World," and the senior sponsored dances these past years. These accomplishments could not have been possible without the cooperation of the class and faculty members. Thank you for all your help and support, and I wish everyone good luck in their plans for the future.

Juniors

This year, as the Junior Class, was our most diffuclt, yet the most fun, The friendships in our class have strengthened greatly, which has made our high school career fantastic. Our class was a leader in spirit throughout the year in all of the exciting school activities The class of 87 knows its goals and is striving for them in many ways. The future looks very promising for our class and I'm glad I had the opportunity to represent such an outstanding group of people.

Sophomores

This has been an extremely exciting year for the Sophomore Class. I am proud of our spirit and involvement in school activities; especially rallies and the Sports Spectacular. I commend my fellow officers for their cooperation and outstanding efforts. The class of '88 is a special group of people, and our years together will hopefully be looked upon as some of the best times in our lives.

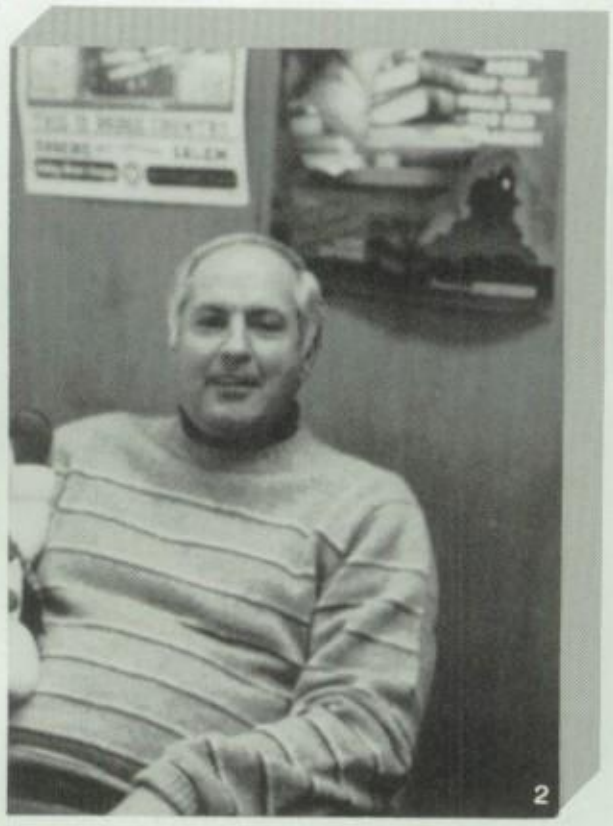
Freshmen



This year, because of my position in student government, Ihave had the privilage to oversee the undertaking of this exceptionally gifted Freshman Class. I use the word "gifted" because of the classes ability to pull together and support each other through a difficult adjustment to high school life.

In my elected office I can see more than the average student. During this term in office, my eyes have been overwhelemed, excited, and impressed, but most of all . . . PROUD.

To all the students of the class of '89, I say "congratulations" we are now one step closer to our destination.

Steve Farnsworth,
Freshman Class President

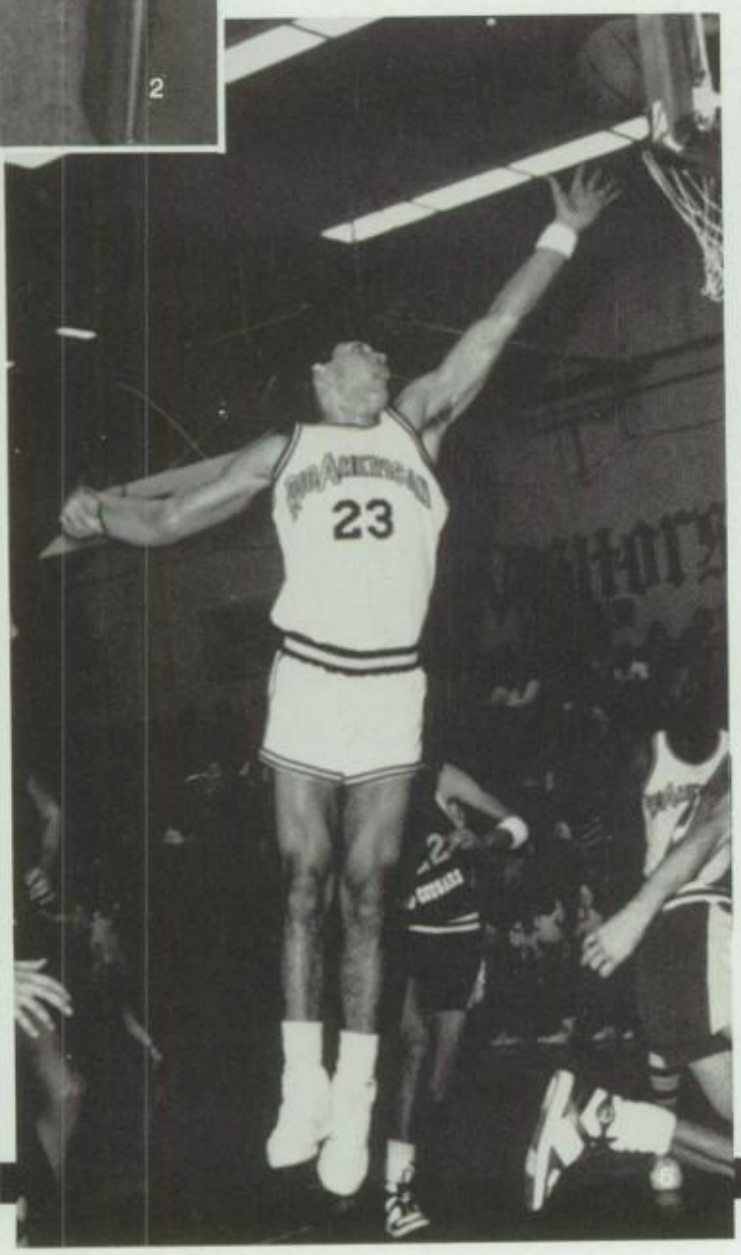
1986 AN ANGLE ON 1986 AN ANGLE ON 1986 AN

With the arrival of the 1985-86 school year came many changes. Rio was converted to a seven period day, giving students the option of taking a 7:00 a.m. 1st period. The Raider's favorite team, Varsity Basketball of course, was undefeated in league play and had another tremendous year.

The students became older, wiser, and more prepared for the future as the year went by. Whatever the unique individuals of the Class of 1986 decides to do with their lives, they will do it well.



1. "Would you hurry up and serve? I'm freezing!" 2. Oh puhlease, Monte, the way you eat makes me ill." 3. "Hey dudes, let's party!" 4. "See what happens when you smile, Mike?" 5. "Can we get this in the yearbook?" 6. Ty Bernard shows Del Campo how to play the game. 7. Relax!

Kel-Bel!
What's up??
I'm so glad we had math together again this year.

1. Desperate Rio students attempt to escape the flood by launching a garbage dumpster boat. 2. Rio students spend ALL their spare time doing homework. Ha ha ha! 3. Kristen Viani -Should I hit the ball or let the ball hit me? 4. Student Body Officers are high on school. 5. Models at lunch displayed Rio's latest fashions on the quad. 6. Underclassmen sit against the wall for senior target practice. 7. Rio students protest the old tiolet paper and demand Charmin.

Kelly -

Every year we get to know each other more and more! You're super nice! I'm glad our parents are friends because we probably won't see much of this each other. Unless you call me! 481-2361 and I most definately mean it! I'm sorry I got you out of your "bubble" bath on New Years day. I'll call if you want me too, so we can do stuff! I can't wait till we're seniors!! Yay

Love-
Leor!

KELLY,

I'm glad they I was able to become friends. Thanks for Sadie, I had a good time, believe it or not. Well, you'll be a big senior next year. Good luck. Keep in Touch.

David C.

Alexis - my lover - kelly)

I glad I had classes with you this year cuz you're a great person. You owe me a few back rubs. And good luck w/ Stacye. Remember that if you guys break up & I'm single also, you & I should match up. (Ambers legs and yours are the same.) Don't you remember that? How funny! Every year we become a little better friends. Let's continue to do so. Call me this summer for the fun of it. (489-7751)

Love,
Peter

(& let's also go /yr left / rollerskating this year)

Kelly -

Im so glad that were finally seniors. This years been really fun. I can't write anymore but I hope you have a great summer and I hope to see you. Congrats. on Song.

Love,
Nicole

Hey Kelly,
So, Have a fun summer and try not to get into any trouble. I will too. Get really buzzed, & give me a call Sometime see ya
Joey Leard

Kelley
We only have 1 more week to school can't believe it seems like we just got out for Xmas. It was an ok break. What else did I do? Oh yeah I went to Classics to gather with my friends. You are so sweet I will save a rack sum where but I will see you next year
Take care
Dawn Chavez

Kelli-Kelli,
How are you?
I sure am bored
Well I guess I'll
Write you
Soon
P.S. Big
Kiss!
Love ya lots
BoB

Kelly,
Yippee Yahoo, we're through, I'm free!
Now School was that! But it's true, we're seniors
Congratulations gonna be rad. A pain yes, but fun.
No more Tennis Espanol. Hey, You better not pull your muscles anymore. I'm gonna have to call you "gimp" really soon. Hey, Mariah this summer for sure!! Well, I'm glad that we ogden to be best friends our two years.
Then we'll both be able to take lessons!!)
Love ya lots
BoB

KELLY honie!
well - I must say that em SO glad that we finally got to know eachother better. Ive always wished we could be buds - & now we are. em SO glad. Jane the maddest girl help smiling ☺. Softball wouldn't have been the same w/o yar cuteness & darling personality. yo sure do have the speed babe - I swear - try for the 20 yd. dash 4 the Olympics K? Ill see ya next year out on the field (or pushcase me? Play softball ? HA!) ☺ anyway hell - I love ya! CALL ME! 366-1185 -

Daph

Kelly,
Sir really glad we're friends, you are the sweetest!! I honestly like Stacy & well have to all get together and do something. Have a really fun summer.
Love,
Scott Sherburne

Kelly,
You are so sweet! I'm so glad I met you! Softball was great - Playing with you. We have to do something this summer like play softball & go to your dad's games! Have a great summer!
love, 486-
Carrie 9220
call

Kelly,
this year has been rad, yes? well, except for some certain senior songleaders at times, right? This year will be rad because we are all (basically) friends. Thank goodness only one more day w/ Thom. No more Consumer!
Yeah! You are a really great friend, and I hope next year we'll be even better friends! Seniors at last! Have a great summer. Let's do something okay? 4850539

Kel-bel,
You are the best, we are going to have so much fun this summer and next year.

Kelly, Can you believe this is my 6th day of school. I still don't know what I am going to do since I'm not going to see ya every day, but we can still be friends. Kelly - If you ever want to go up to Tahoe and ruglies to call me, I will be up there. Otherwise, me and Angie will be down again if it is cool and so if you want, call (525-7473) Thanks for making this a fun one,
Love ya
Leslie

Kelly,
The years finally over.
Spanish has been a drag,
but there have been some good times. ¿Por que está tremblando? Ha Ha. It's been really great having you in Spanish.
Good luck next year. I wish you all the best.

Your Friend Always
Mark Linden
(The man from Sweden)

P.S.
I hope you change your mind and come to Davis. If you don't I will miss your cheerful smile and all the (bodily) pains you bring with you to class. Good luck at UCLA; if you go.

Hey Lole, like how da hell are ya?
Oh jesse. We haven't been seeing nearly enough of each other lately. Whats up?
Wreck many cars lately? Wanna go to Junior prom? How's the Spanish test?
All this and even basketball! (For one low price!) Well, if there's one piece of wisdom this wise old cad (great word that cad) can impart upon you, it's, enjoy! The best times are from now on. Anyway, lets start bummin again & lets do somethin' this summer (unless you're not yet tired of Jesuit guys!) Ha ha ha ha! See ya dude!

Kelly, Kel.

Can you believe we are Seniors! Seems like yesterday we were in kindergarden and you were at my house for the first time. We've had lots of good times - goggly monsters and the three musketeers. So bad you didn't go to any of Jessie's dances with goobers. You didn't get to walk in the guys bathroom. All the classes we had together were a feast U.S. History was the hardest! I'm so glad we're still friends, you are so nice. Have a great summer and be sure to call. Love you & friends forever.

(I hope)

Dianne (Di-di)

Kelly -

Yearbooks are so generic, so I'll just say that you're smart, you're cute, and you'll have fun wherever you go and whatever you do - laugh at the world -

La clase de español fue más divertida contigo pero no fue divertida! - This year has gone by so fast! I hope next year doesn't go so fast for you - it's really scary!! ¡Tengo miedo de colleges!
¡Pero español que tengas un verano increíble y largo, Con amor, Tina

Too bad you don't have my Spanish pronunciation!

Kelly
Ya sabes que te voy a echar de menos este verano. Espero que lo pases muy bien en Europa. Ojalá que no te olvides de mí. Escríbeme una carta de vez en cuando. Mucha suerte en todo. Con cariño, Claudia

Kelly,

Well wasn't TWIRP? a memorable experience. It's just too bad you had to drink so much and Flood my bathroom with your puke. Really though — I had a great time. I still think you should have chosen soccer over softball. We've got to get together this summer For some adventure and if not there's always next year because I'll still be in town at Sac. State. Take care and never lose that gorgeous smile.

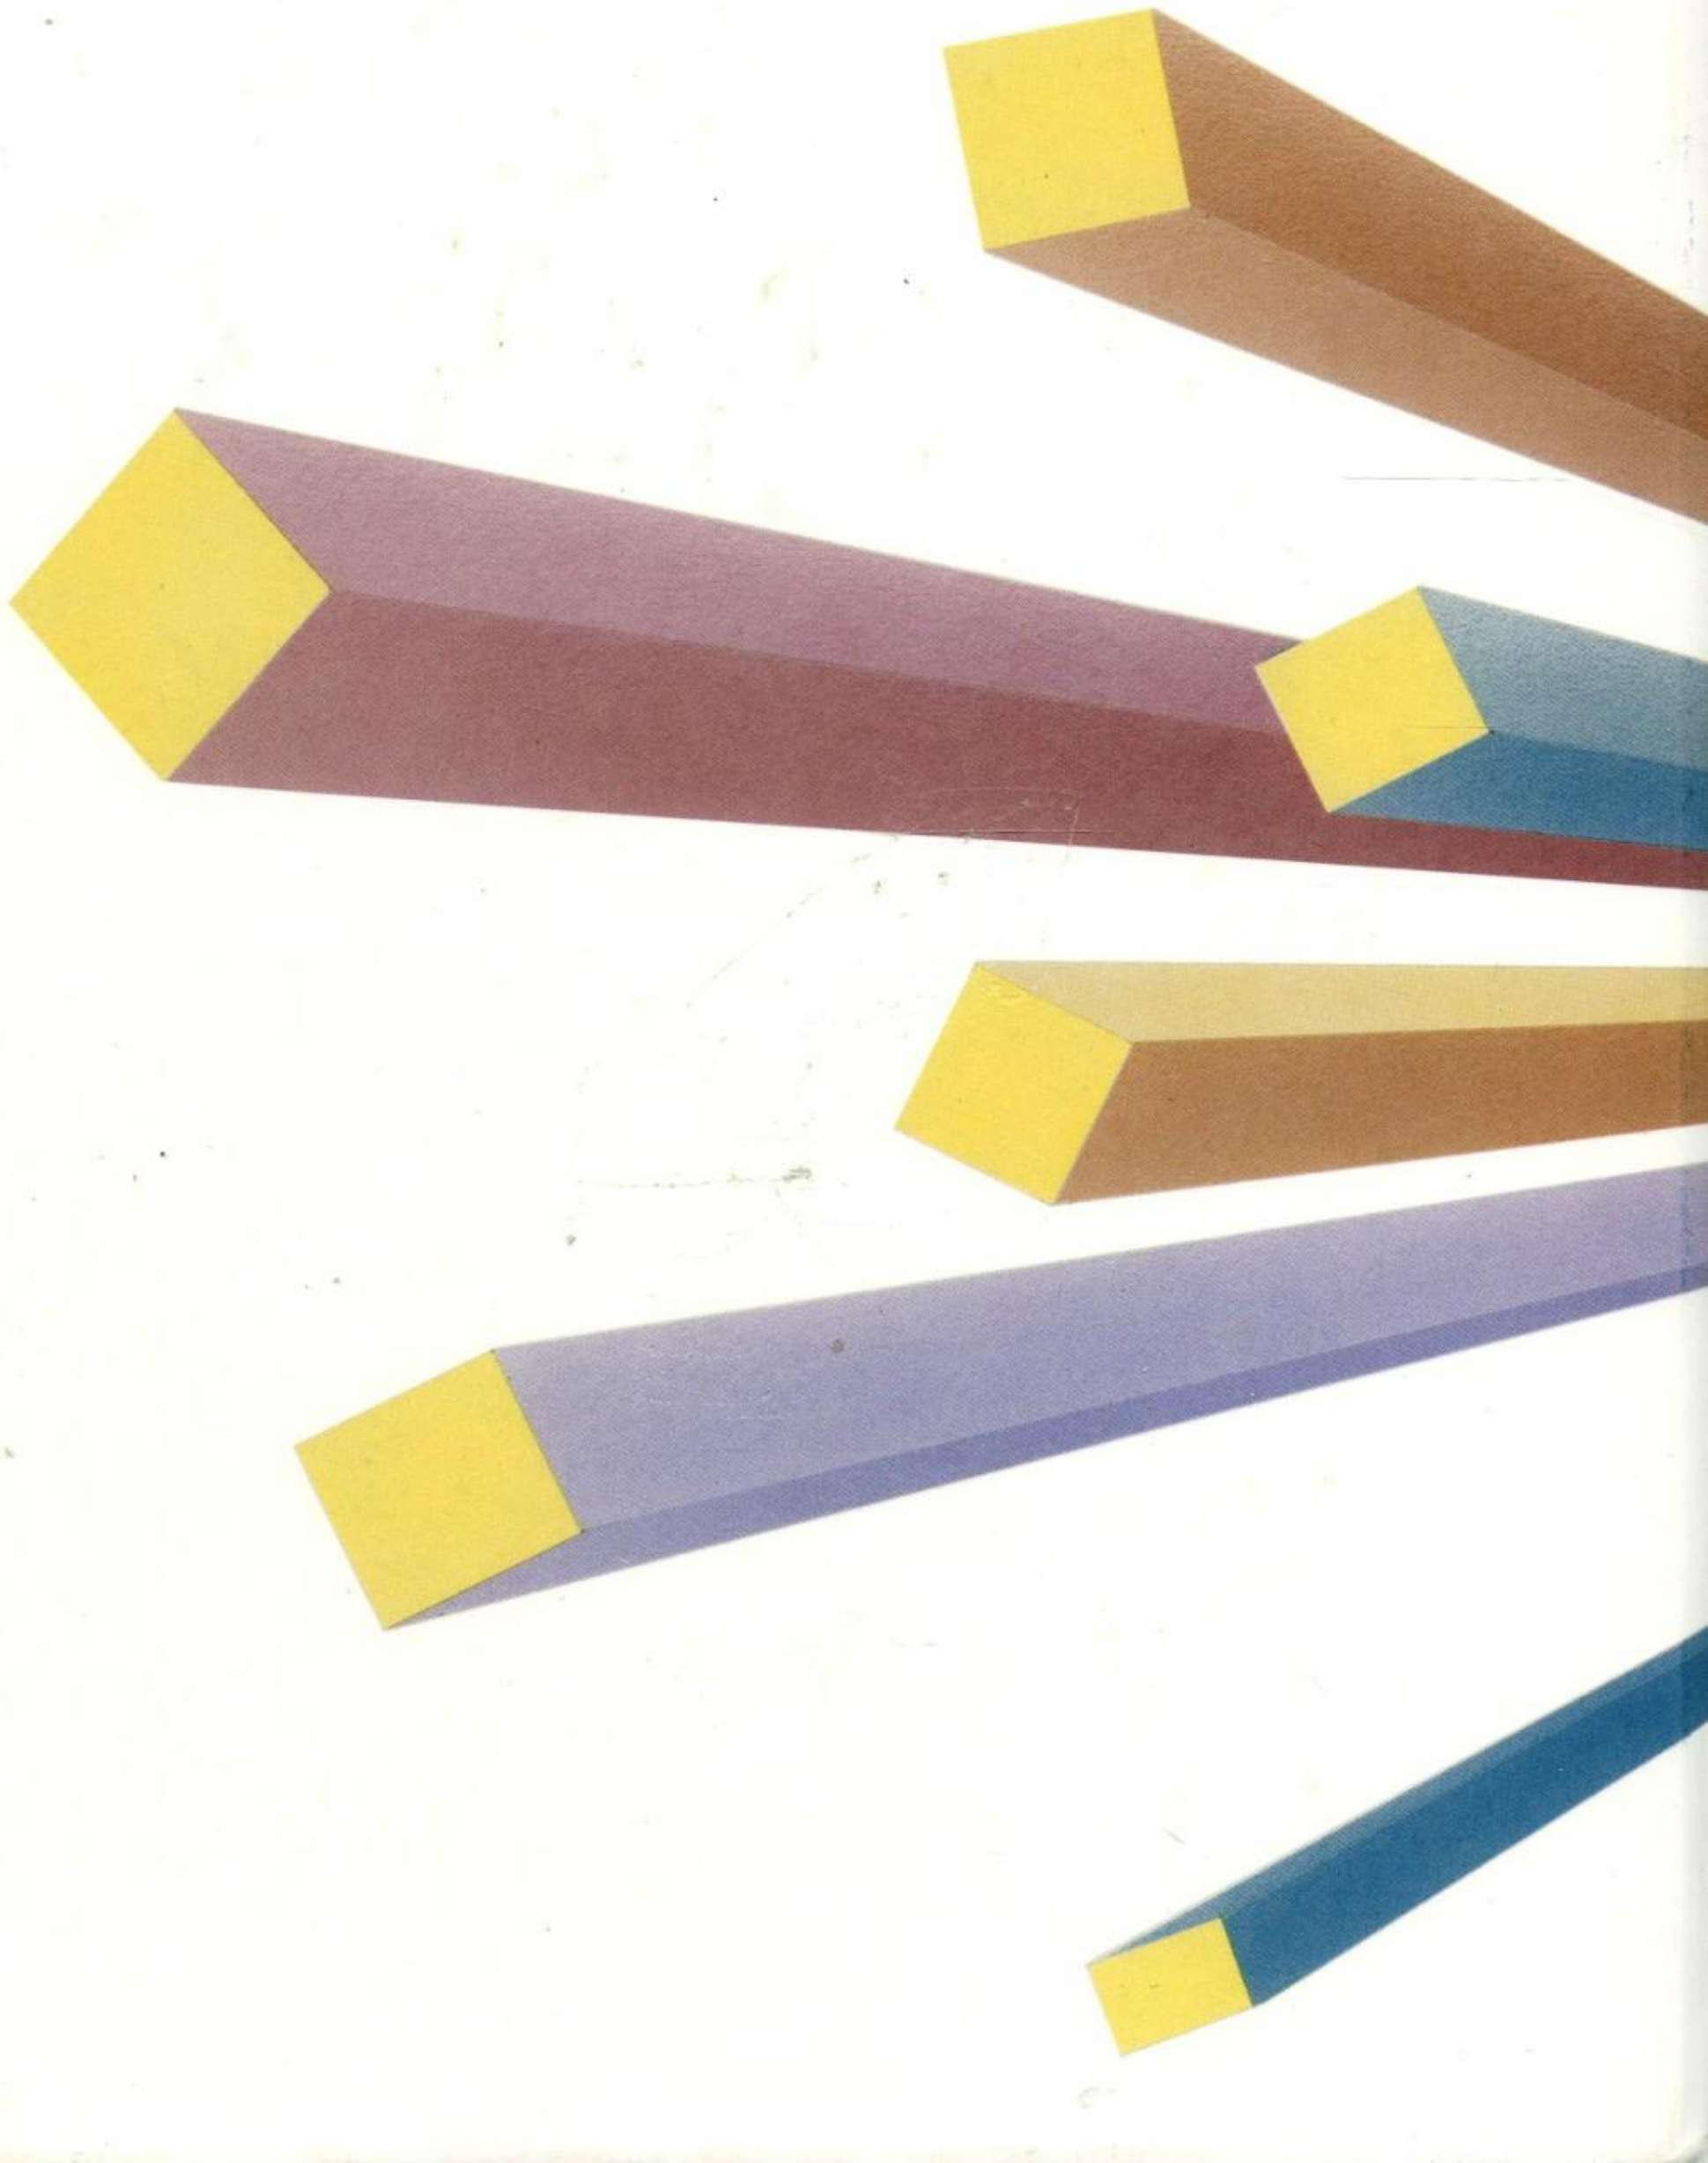
Kelly,
I'm so glad that we've had (ing) 4 years (Can you believe that we've known each other since Kindergarten!! We have been through some serious shit - remember our 4th grade fight? This summer is gonna be a cool new (ing) that will (ing) shit together. Love ya always,

Kelly,
Little Sis, I just want to tell you how much I love you and miss you. Remember when we used to sneak out of school and go to Bacardi with Chinese food, its not a pretty sight, you're lucky I'm not there to call late at night when the rest of the town is asleep, who is gonna set you up with Rob next year? Have a blast your senior year and come visit me in San Diego.

Good luck,


Mandi
